Commons Asked To Approve New Wheat Scheme

Gardiner Moves For Acreage Bonus And Sales Levy

60-Cent Basis

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Agriculture Minister, this afternoon took the first step to secure parliamentary approval for the government's new wheat policy, which includes an acreage bonus up to $3.50 an acre, a 1 per cent deduction from prairie grain marketings, assistance to co-operative marketing enterprises and a guaranteed initial price of 60 cents for wheat.

He moved for adoption of a resolution preliminary to the introduction of a bill to provide for the deduction and the acreage bonus.

Outstanding features of the acreage insurance plan follow: The township is used as the unit to determine yield, thus avoiding depending on individual declarations and also leaving some room to benefit from individual effort while giving no encouragement to farming poor land.

Wheat is only used as a means to determine the crop yield; the payment is made on half the cultivated acreage, up to 200 acres whatever is grown on it.

MIXED OPERATIONS

Because of those payments encouragement is given to summer-fallowing, grass growing and mixed farming.

Because of the limitations the half-section and three-quarter-section home units are encouraged rather than the large farm.

A charge of 1 per cent of all the grain which goes to the terminals forms part of a fund, the remainder of which when necessary is provided from the treasury.

M.P.'S DEBATE ABSENTEE VOTE

Four British Columbia Members Urge Extension; Easterners Oppose It

OTTAWA (CP)—Extension of absentee voting privileges, to fishermen, lumbermen, miners and sailors was urged before the Commons elections committee today by four British Columbia members of Parliament, but was opposed on grounds of excessive cost.

Committee members from other parts of the country contended that if absentee voting privileges were to be widened, the act should be amended to enable all persons to exercise their franchise.

The example of absentee voting in British Columbia provincial elections was held up by A. W. Neill, Independent, Comox-Alberni; C. Grant MacNeil, C.C.F., Vancouver-North; Angus MacInnis, C.C.F., Vancouver-East, and T. J. O'Neill, Liberal, Kamloops.

The British Columbia members asserted feeling was "running high" in their province on the question. Refusal of the franchise in this way to 5,000 or 6,000 voters would merely make more difficult a situation marked by periodic strife on the coast in recent years.

THE WEATHER

VICTORIA, 5 a.m. today—An extensive mass of cold air extends southeastward from Yukon to Saskatchewan and a distant depression is slowly approaching Vancouver Island from the north. The weather has been mostly fair and cool in southern British Columbia, but quite cold with snow flurries in the north and throughout the prairie provinces.

First Lord's Speech Straightened Out

Stanhope's Man-the-guns Address Gave Wrong Impression, Chamberlain Tells M.P.'s

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that Earl Stanhope's "man the guns" speech last night was "unpremeditated."

The Prime Minister's treatment of the incident as a misunderstanding left the impression the position of the First Lord of the Admiralty in the Cabinet would not be impaired.

Mr. Chamberlain said it was not true that Lord Stanhope had asked the press to give special prominence to his statement that the anti-aircraft guns of the navy had been ordered manned.

The Prime Minister said he personally had given directions that the press should be asked not to publish the account of the First Lord's speech, or if they did publish it not to ascribe to it any particular importance. That was because it gave an incorrect impression.

Mr. Chamberlain said he had acted to "spare the public unnecessary agitation."

The Prime Minister said amid laughter and cheers: "Apparently my efforts were not altogether successful, but the incident will at any rate have served to demonstrate the constant readiness of the navy for all eventualities."

"READY FOR ANYTHING"

Speaking at Portsmouth aboard the fleet's newest aircraft carrier, the Ark Royal, at the inauguration of the government's sponsored plan to provide cheap movies for the navy, Lord Stanhope said that shortly before he had left London "it became necessary to give orders to man anti-aircraft guns of the fleet so as to be ready for anything that might happen."

The declaration provoked sharp repercussions. The Prime Minister's office issued a denial. The Admiralty asked the press to suppress the statement.

The Prime Minister told the Commons today no orders had been given by the Admiralty other than that the practice of retaining some of the men on board their own ships in readiness to man the guns should not be relaxed, even on so special an occasion as the dinner and movie aboard the Ark Royal.

Mr. Arthur Greenwood, acting leader of the opposition, who asked the Prime Minister for a statement on Lord Stanhope's speech, then inquired: "If the First Lord's words were not premeditated, does the Prime Minister regard the First Lord as a fit person to hold an important office?"

"Is not the Prime Minister making rather light of a serious business? Will he give an as-surement that such indiscreet, irresponsible and unpremeditated statements shall not be repeated in the future by responsible officers of the Crown?"

Mr. Chamberlain replied: "No. My noble friend has expressed regret to me that his words— which perhaps were not very happily chosen—should have given rise to so much comment and so much unnecessary alarm. I do not think that affects the efficiency of my noble friend, with whom I am perfectly satisfied."

Opposition leaders seemed more concerned with the request sent out that the speech be suppressed than with the speech itself.

The leader of the Liberals, Sir Archibald Sinclair, asked: "Is it not the Prime Minister's own action in interfering with the freedom of the press which has ensured for the First Lord's statement redoubled publicity?"

Mr. Chamberlain replied: "I think it is appropriate for the government from time to time to make a request to the press... and I always have found the press ready to comply."

"I must take the blame for the action, which certainly did not produce the effect I wanted."

Mr. Chamberlain did rebuke Lord Stanhope mildly by saying: "It is desirable in times like this that everyone should be very careful of what they say. I am sure my noble friend will take special care after this experience."

The British press, unfamiliar with official censorship, appeared puzzled over what to do when asked to refrain from publishing Lord Stanhope's remarks. Some newspapers printed the remarks in early editions and then withdrew them, carrying the statement that the First Lord of the Admiralty had made an "amazing" or "sensational" declaration, but it was not being printed at the request of the Admiralty.

The text of the speech was carried by the British Broadcasting Corporation in its short wave news broadcast to the Empire before the Admiralty's suppression request was issued.

It was omitted from subsequent broadcasts, but no contradiction of the First Lord's remarks was put on the air.

The action of the Admiralty in requesting that Lord Stanhope's speech be suppressed and of the Prime Minister's office in denying it, was almost unprecedented.

The Official Secrets Act authorizes suppression of news considered adverse to national safety.

U.S. Urged Join Britain, France, Russia in Defence

If Safety Threatened Alliance Best, Says Henry L. Stimson

Aid for Friends

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry L. Stimson, former Republican Secretary of State, said today he believed the United States should take sides in any foreign conflict which threatened its "safety and defence."

He leaned forward and spoke intently when Senator Johnson, Republican, California, insisted he say definitely what the United States should do if friendly nations were drawn into war.

Mr. Stimson said: "I think it is appropriate for the government from time to time to make a request to the press... and I always have found the press ready to comply."

"I must take the blame for the action, which certainly did not produce the effect I wanted."

Mr. Stimson said the United States should "take the field" at once in an alliance with these three powers in case America's safety was involved.

Mr. Stimson protested Senator Reynolds' attempt to establish, in questioning, that Great Britain and France had been aggressors throughout history.

Mr. Reynolds also asserted Great Britain was now spending a great amount of money for propaganda directed toward leading the United States into war.

To this, Mr. Stimson replied he had found no single example of it.

In previous testimony, the former cabinet officer urged abandonment of the isolation theory and asked that the President be given greater power to discriminate between aggressors and victims in wars.

French Re-elect President Lebrun For 7-Year Term

He Receives 506 Votes Of 910 Cast in National Assembly

Strong Army Guards

VERSAILLES, France (CP-Havas)—Albert Lebrun today was re-elected President of France for a second seven-year term by both houses of parliament, sitting as the National Assembly, in historic Versailles palace.

Mr. Lebrun is the second President in French history to be elected for a second term. The first was Jules Grevy, re-elected in 1885.

Mr. Lebrun received 506 votes on the first ballot, whereas only 453 were required for his election. There were 910 votes cast, of which six were blank.

Mr. Lebrun's present term will end May 10.

The President, a country boy who came to the city and won the highest post in France, waited at the Elysee Palace, France's White House, for notification of the results of the election.

Versailles was strongly guarded by 3,000 crack troops, 2,000 mobile guardsmen and hundreds of gendarmes.

Inside the sprawling 17th century chateau where the treaty ending the Great War was signed a small army of plainclothes detectives were on watch.

Reports Italians Invade Albania

Belgrade Hears Military Occupation Set By Mussolini To Begin Tonight

BELGRADE (AP)—Information has been received in usually reliable quarters in this Yugoslav capital that Italy intends to begin occupation of Albania some time tonight.

Official circles in Belgrade declared, in comment on this information: "We are not frightened by these developments as we are on friendly terms with Italy."

It was asserted Italy already had informed Yugoslavia of her intention to occupy Albania and to place her under Italian protection.

This was said to be in conformity with the mutual consultation pact of 1937 between Yugoslavia and Italy.

By RICHARD MASSOCK Associated Press Foreign Staff

ROME—Italian troop concentrations at Adriatic ports were interpreted in foreign circles today as a "warning" to Great Britain and France against carrying out their so-called "encirclement" plans and to Yugoslavia and Greece against joining in them.

This view was strengthened by an article in the prominent Bologna newspaper Il Resto del Carlino as political circles forecast greater freedom for Italian troop movements to Albania as a result of the expected strengthening of the Italian-Albanian defensive alliance.

Rumors persisted that Italian troops were ready to land in Albania, across the Adriatic from Italy.

Il Resto del Carlino said Great Britain and France were counting on Rome's abandonment of the Rome-Berlin axis when London and Paris have "encircled" Germany by creating a series of guarantee pacts with Soviet Russia, Poland, Roumania, Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey.

COUNTER-MOVES

The newspaper advised "big and little illusionists near and far" that Italy, along with Germany, will reply to any attempt to encirclement.

It said Great Britain and France "run the risk of being crushed, and all the worse for the little powers who dare to lend themselves to the game of the big ones."

Diplomatic interest focused on negotiations between Italy and Albania, officially described as intended to strengthen their military alliance.

The Treaty of Tirana, signed in 1927, provided for dispatch of Italian troops to Albania if the latter requested such aid against a war danger.

Poland and France were counted on Rome's abandonment of the Rome-Berlin axis when London and Paris have "encircled" Germany by creating a series of guarantee pacts with Soviet Russia, Poland, Roumania, Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey.

France Sending Reinforcements To Alexandretta

But Reports in Paris Declare Turkey Will Eventually Get Sanjak

ROUMANIA WOODED

PARIS (AP)—It was officially announced today French troop reinforcements have been dispatched to the Sanjak (district) of Alexandretta, but the number of troops en route was not given.

The dispatch of reinforcements was declared to be in full accord with existing French-Turkish understandings and official quarters said negotiations for settlement of the Sanjak question were proceeding normally.

The newspaper L'Homme Libre, generally believed to reflect the opinions of Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet, devoted an article to Syria which was viewed by some as an attempt to justify eventual Turkish annexation of the Sanjak, which adjoins Turkey on the south.

"Even if the Turks are threatening the Sanjak of Alexandretta," the newspaper said, "there is no reason to believe at present that Turkish troops will go beyond the zones agreed on."

DARDANELLES OPEN

France was reported to have informed quarters to have assured Roumania that in the event of a European war the Dardanelles would be open to French and British warships.

Busily building the southern part of the "Stop Hitler" bloc, France was said to have received assurances from Turkey, which controls the entrance to the Black Sea and Roumania's "back door," of support for the French-British line-up to preserve the independence of small European countries.

In exchange, it was said, Turkey was told she could eventually annex the Sanjak and Alexandretta although unrest in Syria made that impossible for the present. The Sanjak is a small district of northern Syria.

READY TO WAIT

Turkey was represented as being willing to wait, since the government of President Ismet Inonu already leaned toward the French-British bloc because of its own fears of Germany's expansion southeastward.

These developments followed assurances yesterday by the Turkish ambassador that Turkey would not seize the Sanjak by force after Paris newspapers had reported 60,000 Turkish troops on the border ready to occupy the territory.

KELLY RE-ELECTED CHICAGO'S MAYOR

CHICAGO (AP)—Mayor Edward J. Kelly, re-elected by a decisive margin, went back to his city hall desk today for another four-year term while party chieftains studied the election results for a tip on the coming United States presidential contest.

Climaxing one of the strangest mayoralty campaigns in Chicago's history, the veteran Democratic leader defeated his youthful Republican opponent, Dwight H. Green, by approximately 180,000 votes in the polling yesterday.

Complete but unofficial returns gave Kelly 820,517, Green 637,107, and Arthur D. Reilly, Third Party candidate, 4,921.

Democratic and Republican leaders alike hailed the results with satisfaction.

Republicans asserted the Republican vote—largest polled in Chicago in a decade—was a sure sign of a Republican victory in Illinois next year when presidential nominees battle for 29 electoral votes.

Berlin Paper Says British See Martians

BERLIN (CP)—Comment on the "man-the-guns" speech of Earl Stanhope, First Lord of the Admiralty, was soon forthcoming here.

The noonday newspaper Zeitung Am Mittag captioned its front page editorial: "Mars inhabitants now before England."

The newspaper recalled the October 30 scare in the United States over a radio dramatization of a Martian invasion.

"Does Lord Stanhope think the Martians now are marching on England?" the Zeitung Am Mittag asked.

Hungerford On Coast

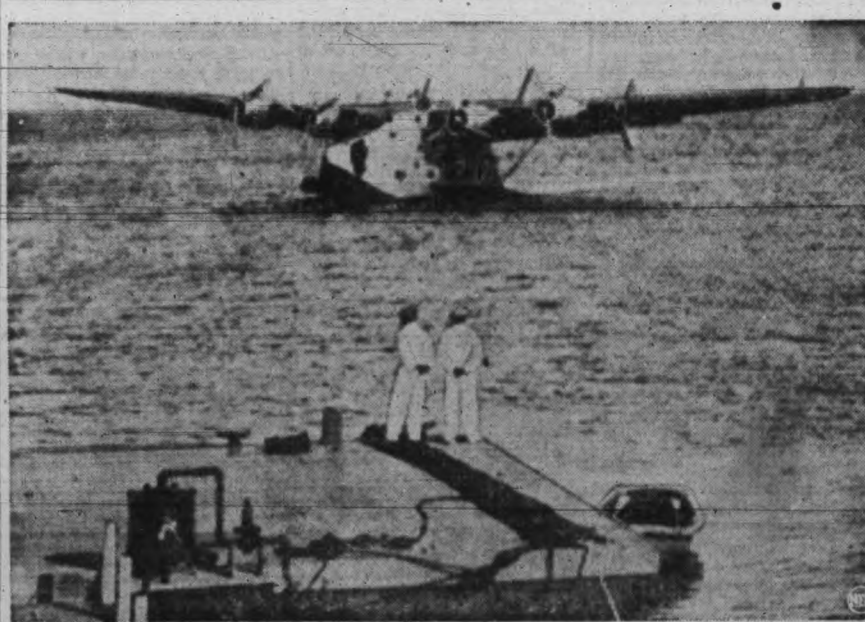

VANCOUVER (CP)—S. J. Hungerford, president and chairman of the board of directors of the Canadian National Railways, arrived in Vancouver today and said he believed the King and Queen would gain a new conception of Canada's breadth and extent on their forthcoming visit in May.

The railway head, also president of Trans-Canada Airlines, said an extremely busy program had been mapped for their Majesties, "but I feel sure they will go away delighted with their visit."

Plane Ship Launched

BARROW-IN-FURNESS, Eng. (AP)—H.M.S. Illustrious, 23,000 tons, the largest aircraft carrier ever built for the British navy, was launched today.

The Illustrious, first of five sister ships, was laid down in 1937.

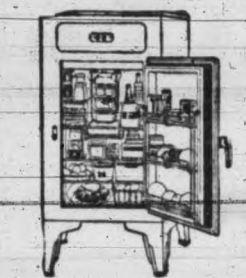

DELAYED BY WEATHER—Storms over the English Channel forced the 42-ton Pan-American Clipper to turn back to Southampton today from a flight to Foyines, Ireland. According to dispatches the Clipper will not take off again for Foyines before next Monday. In the above picture the Clipper, carrying a record Atlantic complement of 21 persons, is shown landing at Lisbon, Portugal, after hopping from the Azores. It was the second leg of the trip from Baltimore to England, preliminary to the inauguration of regular trans-Atlantic service. The machine can lift 72 persons, though it is not planned to carry that total on scheduled ocean crossings.

Big Reserves for Anti-aggression

Forces Stronger Than Totalitarianism for Possible Long Struggle

By EDWARD BOMAR
Associated Press Staff Writer WASHINGTON—Europe's new anti-aggression line-up unites imposing land and sea force, but in the air, United States experts said today, the most authoritative figures show the Rome-Berlin axis superiority.

Further, in the number of troops actually under arms, Germany and Italy together are shown by official reports to possess greater immediate striking power.

It is in trained reserves, naval might and resources for a long struggle that an alliance of Great Britain, France and Poland appears to some experts to be better equipped—excluding the possibility of aid from Russia, Roumania or other nations.

Latest available official data—subject to revision almost daily because of sudden moves on the European military checkerboard—give this picture of the relative strength in land forces:

Great Britain—208,500 men under arms, 573,500 including trained reserves.

France—725,000 active, 6,025,
000 including reserves.

Poland—266,000 active, 1,713,
000 including reserves.

Germany—930,000 active, 4,080,
000 including reserves.

Italy—917,000 active, 7,412,000
including reserves.

Hungary, a possible Rome-Berlin ally, is credited 50,000 men under arms, and an additional 650,000 reserves.

The land forces of other powers included:

Russia—1,500,000 active army, possibly 18,000,000 trained reserves.

Roumania—212,000 active; 1, 828,000 including reserves.

Japan—1,500,000 or more under arms pressing the conflict with China and guarding the Siberian border, plus 4,748,000 reserves.

The United States—185,000 active army, and 315,000 reserves.

NAVAL FORCES
At sea, Great Britain and France have warship tonnage of 2,842,000, compared with 1,180,000 for Germany and Italy.

Latest revised comparative figures credit Japan with 898,681 warship tonnage.

The U.S. navy's total is 1,407, 945.

Aerial strength is the most difficult to measure, because of the attendant secrecy and the complex factor of production capacity which would determine prompt replacement of wartime losses.

By one authoritative estimate, Germany and Italy could put at least 12,500 warplanes into the air immediately, compared with 7,700 British and French modern aircraft.

Italy-German production capacity is rated higher also, though Britain has been gearing her plane output to greater speed.

Using 10 as an index, one report to the U.S. War Department thus rated air strength of leading powers: Germany 10, Italy 6, Great Britain 5, United States 4 and France 2. Relatively speaking, Japan and Poland were out of the picture.

Premier Clears Up Misunderstanding

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King expressed regret in the House of Commons this afternoon that through a misunderstanding of the facts he had charged Harold Dingman, Ottawa correspondent for the Toronto Globe and Mail, with having wilfully "perverted" a quotation from the Prime Minister's foreign affairs speech last Thursday.

Referring to statements he had made in the House of Commons last night respecting the Globe and Mail's report of his speech, the Prime Minister said he had received communications from the managing-editor of the Globe and Mail and from the Canadian Press indicating the quotation he referred to had been lifted from the Canadian Press running report of the speech and incorporated in Mr. Dingman's dispatch without the latter's knowledge.

ARMS FACTORIES IN SPAIN STRIPPED

MADRID (AP)—Workmen started stripping private factories of war material production machinery today and officials predicted normal peacetime operations would be under way in 90 days.

Women workers were being discharged to give jobs to demobilized soldiers.

The Madrid central market opened with fresh fruits and vegetables for sale.

Train service with the northwest was scheduled to resume today, and arrangements were made to resume April 16 the Barcelona airline service connecting Barcelona, Marseille, Genoa and Rome, which was suspended when the war broke out July 18, 1936.

Hail at Miami

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)— Lifeguard stands were overturned, beach umbrellas blown away, hotel awnings slashed and bathers sent scurrying for cover yesterday as a hail and wind storm swept Miami Beach.

The wind reached a velocity estimated at 45 miles an hour.
Scores of large, brightly-colored umbrellas were carried out to sea.

Hallstones the size of marbles fell for several minutes.

Says Man-the-guns
Speech Not Planned
To Create Sensation

LONDON (CP-Havas).—Earl Stanhope, First Lord of the Admiralty, made the following statement in the House of Lords today in explanation of his "man-the-guns" speech last night:

"I should like to explain to the House the circumstances in which I made my remarks on the Ark Royal at Portsmouth yesterday evening.

"The occasion was the institution of a new scheme inaugurating the Royal Naval Film Corporation, a scheme whereby, thanks to the great generosity of the cinema industry and others, the best and most modern films are made available to the ships of His Majesty's fleet at home and abroad.

"It was an occasion on which our guests who were there to receive the navy's thanks would expect every seat to be occupied.
I ventured therefore to explain that the reason why there was not a full attendance was because some of the crews were retained aboard their own ships in readiness to man their guns, as had been normal practice in time of tension.

"No other orders had been given by the Admiralty than that this practice should not be relaxed even on so special an occasion.

"May I add that I had not prepared by speech beforehand and that it is quite untrue that I asked the press to give special prominence to it.

"I have never been anxious to call for the spotlight on myself.
I understand that when my remarks reached London they were treated as sensational matter and the Prime Minister asked the press, as I should have done had I known it, not to publish my speech, or if they did publish it, not to ascribe to it any particular importance.

"I can only express my keen regret that any remarks of mine emphasizing the readiness of the navy to meet all eventualities even when, as now, Easter leave is being given, should have added to the work of the Prime Minister or caused concern to anyone else."

SHINGLE MILL WAGES ISSUE IN HOUSE

Effect of Trade Agreement On Standards
In B.C. Questioned

OTTAWA (CP)—It is not the intention of the government that the Canada-United States trade agreement should have the effect of reducing wage standards in either country, Trade Minister Euler told the House of Commons yesterday in answer to a question from Thomas Reid, Liberal, New Westminster.

The question was based on statements in the U.S. Congress to the effect wage rates in the red cedar shingle industry in British Columbia were lower than the rates paid in the United States.

Mr. Euler said notice had been taken of the statements and the attention of the British Columbia government had been directed to them with a request that an investigation be made.

Hon. George S. Pearson, B.C.
Minister of Labor, said today he has not yet received the federal government's request for an investigation into wages paid in the red cedar shingle industry.

Far from the trade agreement reducing wages, he noted the Board of Industrial Relations within the last week had stiffened the minimum wage regulation for shingle mills by applying a 40 cents-an-hour rate to mill workers of all ages.

Mr. Pearson said that in some parts of the lumber industry wages might be lower in British Columbia than in the United States, but there was a good reason for it. British Columbia's lumber business depended largely upon a world export market while the U.S. industry sold on a protected home market.

EMPIRE PRESS WIRE RATES CUT

LONDON (CP Cable)—The Empire Press Union announced yesterday it was authorized by Cable and Wireless Limited to inform its members that as from April 15 an Empire flat rate for press messages would operate at two pence farthing (4½ cents) a word in place of all existing tariffs.

The only exceptions to the new flat rate, the union said, were to be Canada, Trans-Jordan and the Sudan. Negotiations are proceeding for the inclusion of Canada later.

Existing press cable rates between Canada and Empire points range from 5 cents a word for the United Kingdom to 15 cents a word for India and South Africa.

TORONTO (CP)—J. F. B. Live-say, general manager, the Canadian Press, expressed disappointment that the new Empire flat rate for press messages would not include Canada, especially as Canada had taken the lead for a number of years in advocating a low flat Empire rate.

ALBERTA INTEREST CUT RULED OUT

Edmonton Falls
In Appeal From Decision of Judge

EDMONTON (CP)—Appeal of the Alberta government against a judgment of Mr. Justice S. J.
Shepherd holding the Provincial Securities Interest Act ultra vires of the Alberta Legislature was dismissed in a judgment handed down today in the appellate division of the Supreme Court of Alberta.

The judgment was written by Mr. Justice Frank Ford and concurred in by Mr. Justice T. M.
Weedie and Mr. Justice W. R.
Howson. They were the only three members of the court who heard argument on the appeal.

The action was taken by the Independent Order of Foresters, with headquarters at Toronto, which holds $373,000 in government bonds and government-guaranteed bonds.

Under the Provincial Securities Interest Act, the rate of interest on government bonds was reduced 50 per cent and made retroactive to June 1, 1936. The legislation was passed at the 1937 session of the Legislature.

Validity of the legislation was challenged by the I.O.F. in suing for full interest rates.

FAVOR CENTRAL FRUIT SELLING

Vote Overwhelmingly Supports New Plan
In B.C. Interior

KELOWNA (CP)—By a vote of 1,699 to 202 fruit growers of interior British Columbia have approved a "central selling" scheme for tree fruits in the hailout conducted by the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association central selling committee during the last two weeks.

The ballot was necessitated because of opposition from the newly-formed United Distributors' Co-operative Association, which declared it would not go into any voluntary deal for central selling on the domestic market this year.

Of the 2,500 registered growers in the interior, 1,901 votes were received by chartered accountants who conducted vote counting on behalf of the growers' association.
This is said to be a record vote for the fruit-growing industry.

In only two districts did the growers turn down the central selling idea, these being Kam-loops and Grand Forks, where fruit growing is not extensive.
In the Okanagan, most opposition arose in Oyanama, but even in that centre the vote went two to one in favor.

Most Okanagan districts voted in favor of central selling by 80 per cent or more, and three districts were unanimously in favor.
Even the Kootenays, whose reaction was considered doubtful, went in favor.

United States Urged to End Isolation Policy

Ex-Secretary Stimson
Advocates President
Identify Aggressors

WASHINGTON (AP)—Henry
L. Stimson, one-time Republican Secretary of State, urged Congress and the United States today to throw isolation overboard and give President Roosevelt greater powers to discriminate between aggressors and victims in war.

"I weigh my words," Stimson told the U.S. Senate foreign relations committee, "when I say that I believe our present Canadian civilization is threatened with the gravest danger with which it has been confronted for four centuries."

Mr. Stimson, first witness at hearings on proposed changes in the American Neutrality Act, said the theory of isolation
"looks a little shopworn" and the Neutrality Act, based on the former code of nations, was outmoded.

Asking wider discretionary powers be given the President, the former cabinet officer remarked the handling of foreign affairs had a most sobering effect upon those entrusted with them, and added:

"I am not impressed with the fact that in that zone Presidential discretion is likely to be abused."
Mr. Stimson added' should a general war start in Europe this spring, the present neutrality law might facilitate a result that would make the United States
"the next victim of attack."

Although Mr. Stimson did not name Germany, Italy and Japan by name, he said some governments, by aggressive tactics, had rejected "with open scorn and contempt" the code of behavior of nations based on mutual respect.

He said that in his belief the U.S. Neutrality Act was creating a false psychology abroad.

"The American people are not insensible to cruelty and aggression," he said. "Nor are they so unintelligent that under the conditions of today they cannot distinguish an aggressor nation from its victim. On the contrary, being served with the most free and enterprising press in the world, they are probably better informed of the facts necessary for such a determination than any other people."

THROGS AT IRAQ KING'S FUNERAL

BAGDAD (AP)—Thousands of bewildered mourners attended the funeral today of King Ghazi of Iraq, who was killed in an automobile accident early yesterday. He was 27.

Members of the diplomatic corps and representatives of the government and the army walked behind the coffin in procession from the royal court to the royal mausoleum, where the body was buried beside the tomb of Gazi's father, Feisal I.

The funeral of G. E. A. C.
Monck-Mason, British consul killed by a mob at Mosul during frenzied mourning yesterday, is to be held tomorrow at Mosul.

Ghazi was succeeded by his three-year-old son, Feisal II, with the boy's uncle, Emir Abdul Ilah, acting as regent.

Bagdad dispatches yesterday said Monck-Mason was stoned to death—when he attempted to pacify a mob which gathered outside the consulate under the delusion the British were responsible for the King's death.

TRIANA, Albania (AP)—A son was born yesterday to Queen Gerajdine and King Zog I, it was to be named Skander in honor of Albania's national hero of the 15th century, Skanderberg, who led a long and bitter uprising against the Turks. His official title is Prince of the Albanians.

2 B.C. PLANES ON MERCY FLIGHTS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Aviation went to the aid of medical science today to bring two women to hospitals in Vancouver from Zeballos on the west coast of Vancouver Island and Squamish at the head of Howe Sound.

A Canadian Airways plane flew to Squamish to bring in Mrs. Robert Arkie, an expectant mother.

The regular flight of a Ginger Coote Airways plane from Zeballos carried Mrs. J. W. Murray, wife of the manager of the Privateer Gold Mine, who required emergency treatment for an undisclosed ailment.

An ambulance met both planes at Sea Island Airport and brought the patients into the city.

PLANS DRAMA FOR NEW HIGH SCHOOL

Sketch plans for a junior high school for the new Consolidated School District of Salt Spring Island are being prepared by the provincial architect's department.

They call for a two-story building estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $30,000, depending on the type of construction used. It would have 8 or 10 rooms with a large gymnasium and other conveniences.

Plans will be submitted to the school board for the district before any action is taken. Hon. G.
M. Weir, Minister of Education, said the school needs of the new district are being considered, and when a decision is reached the usual provincial assistance in financing new schools will be extended.

A YEAR ago this woman came to my Salon and said: "I've never done anything for my skin, but your advertisements have made me feel I'd like to try. Will you tell me exactly what I should use?"
"Certainly," I said. "You've a good skin, but it's dry. You need Cleansing Cream and Juniper Skin Tonic every night, and Orange Skin Food to supple those tissues."
"In the morning, more Juniper, and then a day-long finish with Petal Cream, Dry-skin Powder, Paste Rouge and Lipstick."

I met her at a party recently, looking, as she said herself, "a changed being." "I can never thank you enough," she said. "Since I've looked after my skin regularly, I've felt younger, my clothes have suited me better, and I've found new interest in life. If only women knew what a difference it makes!"

SMUGGLED JEWELS
COST BENNY $50,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Benny's wife, Mary Livingstone, has repossessed $14,000 worth of Parisian jewels that probably cost him as much as $50,000.

The smuggled pretties were appraised here at $2,131, and it cost the comedian twice that amount to redeem them from the federal government. On his plea of guilty Benny yesterday was fined $10,000 on smuggling charges. Attorneys around the federal building estimated his counsel fees would be substantial. Then there were the expenses of several airplane trips across the country for court appearances and the cost of living away from home.

The gems could have been brought in legally for about $700 in customs duty.

Premier Corrects Report of Policy

King Says Reporter Erred In Text of His Foreign Affairs Statement

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King denounced in the House last night as "very false and perverted" a report of his speech last Thursday on foreign affairs which appeared in the Toronto Globe and Mail under the by-line of Harold Dingman, that paper's correspondent in Ottawa.

Mr. King quoted the first paragraphs of the Globe and Mail's report as follows:—

"Ottawa, March 30.—In the face of reports from Europe of a rapid development of a new and grave situation and intense activity in London, Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House of Commons today:

"I cannot accept the view of some that regardless of circumstances this country must say here and now that Canada is prepared to support any action that may be decided upon by the government at Westminster."

"The quoted statement of the Prime Minister included The Globe and Mail report as above of which he complained was carried by The Canadian Press in its report during the progress of his speech. Later, when the text of the Prime Minister's speech became available, The Canadian Press carried in the form of a quoted excerpt the exact words the Prime Minister used in this connection. It is of course impossible in the running report of a lengthy speech to quote textually a passage of this kind. If in summarizing the above The Canadian Press was in error, it desires to express its regret both to the Prime Minister and to the Globe and Mail."

The Prime Minister then referred to the Hansard record of this paragraph, which was as follows:

"I cannot accept the view which is being urged, in some quarters today, that regardless of what government or party may be in office, regardless of what its policy may be, regardless of what the issue itself may come to be, this country should say here and now that Canada is prepared to support whatever may be proposed by the government at Westminster."

Mr. King then said: "It will be noted that the correspondent of The Globe, Mr. Dingman, in sending the report to his paper, has left out certain very relevant parts of what I said, has substituted other words for certain words that I used, and has given the whole as a complete paragraph without giving the paragraph as I gave it to the House at the time."

Pointing out the words that had been dropped, and the substitution of the word "decided" for the word "proposed," Mr. King said these gave "an entirely different meaning and significance to what was said, and particularly in the face of a situation such as was existing in England at the time that I made my speech in this House, and of which I was fully cognizant not to trust to words spoken extemporaneously, but carefully wrote out what I had to say."

READS RULES

Quoting the rules of the House on privilege—"the publication of debates of either House has been repeatedly declared to be a breach of privilege, and especially false and perverted reports of them," the Prime Minister continued:

"I contend, Mr. Speaker, that this report, which I have referred to as a false and perverted report, a very wilfully false and perverted report having regard to all the circumstances, and particularly to the fact that the perverted statement is preceded by the words that it was given in the face of reports of the rapid developments of a new and grave situation in London."

"I leave it to the House to do what it thinks should be done with a correspondent who deals in that fashion with statements of honorable members, particularly the Prime Minister of the country in announcing a statement of policy which would be cable immediately to all parts of the world. For my own part I think he should be denied the privileges which are accorded to members of the press in the Press Gallery."

"I would not have referred to it, but so often there have been these misleading statements from the same correspondent that I have felt this time, seeing that a number of members have spoken to me about it and others have written to me about it, that I owed it to honorable members generally in the House, and particularly to the government and its policies, to see that the matter was placed in its true light before this House and before the country."

MILITARY SERVICE DEBATE AT OTTAWA

MacNeill Bill for Parliamentary Vote Talked Out

OTTAWA (CP)—A proposal for revision of Canada's Militia Act of 1904 was made by C. Grant MacNeill, C.C.F., Vancouver North, in the Commons last night, but his bill to amend the act was "talked out" in private members' hour. T. L. Church, Conservative, Toronto Broadview, opposed it.

Mr. MacNeill's amending bill would provide that command of Canada's armed forces be exercised by the Governor-General on the advice of the Canadian Privy Council instead of by the King or the Governor-General as his representative.

It would restrict the power of the Governor-General to order mobilization of the male population providing for the exercise of the power only on the advice of the Privy Council for Canada and after Parliament had passed an authorizing act.

The changes, he said, would assure parliamentary control over the armed forces of the country and would bring the Militia Act more into harmony with the changed status of Canada as an autonomous nation.

RESOURCES DISCUSSED

A conference of the "have" and "have-not" nations to bring about a more equitable distribution of the world's land and material resources was urged by P. J. Rowe, C.C.F., Athabasca, Alta.

Angus MacInnis, C.C.F., Vancouver East, urged an embargo on the export of war materials to aggressor nations, a declaration by Canada of adherence to the League of Nations and collective security, passage of legislation to assert Canada's right to remain neutral in any war, and the calling of a session of the League of Nations assembly to consider the present international situation.

DEFENCE FACTORIES RUSHED IN U.S.

Contracts for 3,000 Planes and Other Equipment Drafted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Geared to wartime speed, the United States army is ready to start factories producing the 3,000 new warplanes and other munitions authorized in the $358,000,000 expansion bill just signed by President Roosevelt.

Assistant Secretary Louis Johnson said today contracts with numerous manufacturers would be completed just as soon as the first funds become available.

In the interest of speed, the army's entire procurement system has been streamlined.

The bill which Mr. Roosevelt signed Monday night at Warm Springs, Ga., provides authorization for major phases of the $552,000,000 defence program. The actual money must be made available in separate legislation, now before the Senate after passing the House of Representatives virtually without opposition.

The first planes ordered, officials said, will be giant four-engine bombers such as the existing 20-ton "flying fortresses," probably several hundred modern attack bombers, able to speed some six miles a minute, and even faster pursuit planes. The exact numbers of each type are confidential.

A start will be deferred on planes to be used in training 20,000 college students annually as pilots.

Included in the initial contracts is expected to be an experimental order for 13 two-engine pursuit ships similar to the army's newest, which crashed at Mitchell Field, L.I., after hitting 420 miles an hour in a record-cracking dash across the continent.

Washington Seeks To Balance Budget

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—Governor Martin has inaugurated an "economy program" in an attempt to make revenues for the next two years balance appropriations by the state Legislature at its recent session.

"We are attempting to give the service the people expect," said a statement by the governor yesterday, "and yet stay within expected revenues."

He issued an order to all directors, chairmen and institutions, and included the elective officers in his request for co-operation, saying the state general fund had been "overappropriated in excess of 45 per cent."

In view of the above, it is imperative that all of us "back-log" a sufficient amount that we may keep well within the current income."

Foreign Affairs Debate Ended

Canada Not Naming Minister to Japan Immediately, Says King

OTTAWA (CP)—The discussion of international affairs which had occupied the House of Commons for almost four days ended last night with passage of the estimates of the Department of External Affairs, over which Prime Minister King presides.

The position of Canadian minister to Japan will remain vacant for the present, Mr. King told the House in reply to a question. The Canadian legation at Tokyo has been headed by a charge d'affaires since the resignation of Hon. Randolph Bruce and the Prime Minister indicated the government intended to leave matters thus "for the present," although a minister would be appointed later on.

Hon. R. J. Manion, Conservative leader, suggested Canada's permanent office at the League of Nations served no special purpose and might be closed, but the Conservative leader did not press his point when Mr. King said the cost of the office was only $32,500 a year and it performed a useful service in keeping the government advised on conditions in Europe.

TRIBUTE TO KING

The Prime Minister's role in international affairs was given a high rating by J. F. Pouliot, Liberal, Temiscouata, Que., who recalled Mr. King's visit to Chancellor Hitler of Germany in 1937.

"The visit had, of course, a very good effect for two years," said Mr. Pouliot. "During that time nothing extraordinary was done by Herr Hitler and he tried to get all the trade he could."

He also said: "It must be remembered that on Wednesday last an important pronouncement was made by M. Daladier, Prime Minister of France, and on Thursday the Prime Minister of Canada spoke on the international situation. Perhaps those speeches are reasons why Herr Hitler was much milder in his speech on Sunday at Wilhelmshaven than he was in other pronouncements."

INTERVENTION BY U.S.

In the opinion of Denton Massey, Conservative, Toronto Greenwood, the United States would intervene to prevent threatened conquest of Great Britain.

And if such a threat existed, Mr. Massey said, "I do not believe there is one of us in this event would adhere to a determination that we should hold our hand and refuse our aid."

Discussing the differences of opinion already expressed in the House on the desirability of Canada participating in a war involving Great Britain, Mr. Massey said he believed those differences were not so pronounced as might appear.

"So far as concerns the great mass of Canadian people, I believe they would not willingly contemplate the defeat and subjugation of the British people until we had exhausted every strength and resource in a determined effort to prevent such a catastrophe."

"I really believe this is true almost to the same extent of the United States, and that if the people of the United States ever came to believe the freedom and integrity of Great Britain were

Butter Gift to Jobless Considered

OTTAWA (CP)—"The matter is still under consideration," Hon. J. G. Gardiner told the House of Commons yesterday when Mark C. Senn, Conservative, Haldimand, Ont., referred to newspaper reports the federal government was co-operating in the distribution of 4,000,000 pounds of butter among the unemployed.

John H. Blackmore, Social Credit leader, asked if the report was correct, and if the government was paying for the butter with money taxed from the people of Canada.

"There is nothing I can add," the Minister of Agriculture said.

Taxes On Civil Servants

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Senate approved legislation yesterday authorizing the federal government to tax the salaries of state employees and states to tax the pay of federal workers.

The Supreme Court of the United States recently upheld the constitutionality of such taxation.

Much Ado

HAD IT NOT BEEN FOR THE FACT that Europe has been living in a state of alarm for more than a year in these parts might have wondered considerably more than we did just what was behind Lord Stanhope's intimation yesterday that the anti-aircraft guns of the British Fleet were manned "to be ready for anything."

Thousands of words already have cluttered up the cables to assure the world at large that Lord Stanhope—who, of course, is the First Lord of the Admiralty—had unwittingly spoken "out of turn." The Prime Minister issued a denial of his colleague's statement and the Admiralty asked the press to suppress the First Lord's remarks. Mr. Chamberlain followed it up in the House of Commons this afternoon by explaining that he acted at once to "spare the public unnecessary agitation," but apparently his efforts, to use his own words, "were not entirely successful," although the incident will at any rate, have served to demonstrate the constant readiness of the navy for all eventualities.

When all is said and done, everybody who points with pride to the record of the Royal Navy—who remembers how Mr. Churchill had it ready for work in the waning days of 1914, who remembers how Rt. Hon. Alfred Duff Cooper, also as First Lord of the Admiralty, had it ready during the Munich crisis—would be very much surprised if the condition described by Lord Stanhope was not in accordance with the Fleet's preparedness.

After all, neither German nor Italian naval authorities are under the impression that the personnel of the British Fleet—or of any of the services—is preparing for its summer holidays.

Develop Our Own First

DURING THE COURSE OF AN ADDRESS to the transportation bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade on Monday, Mr. E. G. Rowebottom, Deputy Minister of Trade and Industry, is reported to have referred in the following terms to the business of his department of the public service:

"We do not want to introduce industries that will compete with those already established. There are many industries, as yet untapped by this province, that would attract business and provide employment for hundreds of people. The glass industry is one of many I could mention."

There is no disposition to argue the point of competitive industries, even though Mr. Rowebottom's contention obviously is open to discussion, but his hope for the establishment of a glass industry stirs up in our memory an incident in the "development" of Canada's economy under the administration of the Bennett government which attracted Dominion-wide attention.

It will be recalled that soon after the Conservatives took office in 1930 the newly-installed Prime Minister who had promised to "blast" his way into the markets of the world conceived the idea that it would be good policy to put a duty on Belgian glass in order that a comparatively small plant in the east might obtain the tariff protection traditionally given to put our infant industries on their feet. But in short order Belgium likewise conceived an idea: it was the threat of a prohibitive tariff on Canadian wheat, which would have stopped an annual sale of this commodity in the Belgian market at that time of about $12,000,000. And there the matter ended; no tariff war was allowed to begin.

Window glass and plate glass, of course, constitute Belgium's chief glass exports, and she sells practically 80 per cent of it in world markets. Her factories furnish employment for approximately 40,000—on a wage and production cost with which Canada could not compete. British Columbia's total imports of all goods from Belgium in 1937, incidentally, amounted in value to about $425,000, and our sales to the little densely-populated European country—mainly zinc concentrates—for the same period were worth $3,800,000. Total purchases by Canada as a whole of Belgian glass are about $1,000,000 annually; but that small sum in a three-dollar-to-one trade in our favor helps to keep Belgian importers in good humor. One of these days, of course, if the raw material necessary for the manufacture of glass—silica sand—should be discovered in this province, and the cost of production could be brought low enough to compete with the imported article, glass manufacture here might be an economic possibility.

As we have said before in these columns, however, if our own Department of Trade and Industry wants to stimulate the industries British Columbia already has, it can illustrate in graphic form the mechanics of the "buy-at-home" principle by a comprehensive publicity campaign which would impress the consuming public, and inform the housewives of the part they could play in their own interest and in the economic advancement of their province. It is only by this simple but convincing kind of advertising that the argument can be pressed home. And it is the creation of a new demand for the products of existing industries—as well as offering inducement to others—to which the department should actively address itself.

Safety First

TRANS-CANADA AIRLINES, WHOSE full passenger and mail service between Victoria and Montreal began last Saturday, encountered a little difficulty from that unknown quantity—the weather—during the initial eastbound and westbound flights. All the world's airline transportation companies have to contend with adverse climatic conditions now and then. Nor is there anything they can do about it except follow the simple principle that it is better to be safe than sorry.

Patrons of the airways naturally want to cut the time it takes to travel from one part of the country to another. Time often means money to the businessman. And more often than not he can save a considerable amount of it by flying, even though there may be unscheduled landings and unexpected halts. But no businessman, or ordinary traveler who flies because of the exhilaration it provides, will patronize any "line" whose sole denominator of service is strict timetable adherence under all conditions. TCA puts safety first and it is served by pilots who respect the motto.

Praiseworthy

THE 13TH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE Queen Alexandra Solarium for Crippled Children brings to our desk the record of another successful year in correcting little ones' deformities—that might otherwise handicap them for life. Such a reminder of the work being carried on at this institution and the devotion to it of a group of generous men and women helps to restore our faith in human goodwill that often tends to wane in these days of international crises.

During the year 71 new cases were admitted for treatment, 72 discharged—all but one as either cured or improved. The institution has been able to add to its equipment. More important, the directors under the president, Dr. J. D. Hunter, have been able to adhere to its principle of never refusing admission to any B.C. child simply because its parents have not the wherewithal to provide for its maintenance at the institution. Truly, a praise-worthy institution.

Attention should be directed to the comments of Dr. Glenn Simpson, medical superintendent, to the effect that Dominion and provincial funds available for crippled children services at the present time are quite inadequate. Any effort in the way of servicing incipient cases in the junior schools throughout the province would be a good investment on behalf of the public. It would save much in the hospitalization of chronic cases later, not to mention the gain to the individual and the state by preserving boys and girls as normal and useful members of society.

Another Sudden Invasion

SOUTH AMERICA HAS BEEN INVADIED by a deadly enemy. Not an armed force of human warriors, however, but the anopheles gambiae, a carrier of a grave and often fatal type of malaria.

This type of mosquito was, until 1930, known only in central Africa. Then, apparently by airplane, or on fast destroyers crossing from Dakar, West Africa, to Natal, Brazil, he made the jump to South America. Soon after, a severe and deadly type of malaria broke out near Natal.

The International Health Division of the Rockefeller Foundation will spend $100,000 this year in fighting the invader. For unless he is halted, he might carry his deadly germ throughout South, Central and even into North America.

Fast communications have redoubled the dangers of such invaders, for mosquitoes which would die during a long ocean voyage easily survive a quick airplane hop.

An eastern college has started a course in celestial navigation. Part of the political science sequence?

Nine out of 10 stammerers are men, a survey discloses. Perhaps women shouldn't ask for all those explanations.

History in these days of grabs and loot seems to be taking on the characteristics of straight police reporting.

CURBING LOAN SHARKS

From Windsor Star
Perhaps no legislation offered during the present session of the Commons will have greater public approval than that designed to regulate interest rates and service charges on small loans. Hon. J. L. Isley, Minister of National Revenue, is to introduce the measure as a government matter.

The manner in which some "loan sharks" have been allowed to prey on an innocent public has been no credit to this country. For persons needing large amounts of credit, and having satisfactory security, the large lending agencies have met the needs. But for poor people, in need of small amounts, the danger has been that they be made the victims of excessive rates and charges for all sorts of "services."

Those who have been caught in the web of such financing have paid a heavy and bitter penalty. Some of the "loan sharks" have used every possible means of keeping just within the law to take advantage of small wage-earners who have found themselves in need of financial aid. These people have paid and paid out of their small incomes, the excessive interest and charge consuming most of the payments and leaving the principal amount to be diminished slowly.

There have been, of course, reputable agencies lending money on a fair and reasonable basis. But poor people, in many instances, have not the business experience or knowledge to judge the good from the bad, and thus have fallen prey to unscrupulous individuals.

The proposed legislation should have teeth in it so as to give the public real protection. There need be no sympathy for the "loan sharks" who may be put out of business. They have preyed on an innocent public too long.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

THINGS

AFTER WEEKS at Ottawa, after a million words of Hansard, after living constantly with statesmen and with ideas, how good it is to get out in the spring into the big woods with ordinary men and with things.

And more wisdom in it, too. Yes, more of the truth about things here in the woods with the ordinary working man than in the offices of cabinet ministers, the chambers of Parliament. More hope, more confidence, more of the real stuff of Canada.

It almost staggers you at first, after you have been immersed in problems of politics and economics, to see that Canada, the real basic Canada, is going about its job undismayed and unpuzzled and, as far as men can be, happy.

The statesmen utter dire words. The minor politicians wrangle over policies. The economists can prove by figures that the jig is up. But out on the land the Canadians don't believe it.

Look at the clearing fires along the Island Highway today. Look at the men piling brush and logs and burning them to make new gardens and little patches of farmland between the big stumps. Look at their women working with them, in overalls, faces black with charcoal. Look at the new shacks, the tiny fenced-in space for vegetables, the single cow and a couple of pigs.

These people aren't stopping for the statesmen, for the dictators, for the fear of war and calamity. They are going ahead to make homes, to make some kind of a living for themselves on the land, as their fathers did.

REAL STUFF

THERE IS THE real strength and fibre and hope of this country—not to be judged by the size of cities, by the indices of commerce, by the figures of finance. There is the solid, unbreakable substance of Canada still lying out there under the sky, untouched by the fever and the fret of these times.

All today, as we drove up the highway and along the little side roads between the stumps, I was wishing we had some of our statesmen with us. "Look," I'd say to them, "there is Canada! Not in your bluebooks, not in your speeches, not in your city offices. There is Canada out there, the earth and the people on it, which will be there long after you are forgotten, long after the European crisis and its little dictators are forgotten! There," I'd say, growing very eloquent, and with a majestic gesture, "there is the Canada you should be thinking about and remembering and trusting and hanging on to!"

But you won't get statesmen out on the bush farms. You won't get them into the big woods, with the lumberjacks. You won't get them with us today on a noisy, greasy gasoline speeder, thundering up the logging railroad into the timber.

There, with the wind in your face, and the island mountains white with snow against the steel-blue sky, you get the feeling of this country much more accurately than you can ever get it in the city—far more truly than any government ever gets it.

Here is movement and action and the work of men's hands—here in the woods where a lanky giant stands on a springboard, in a wet undershirt, swinging an axe into the deep undercut of a giant cedar, his teeth bared as the blade clicks into the wood, the sweat dripping in a steady stream from his nose.

Here are the men who do things—that old bucker, with his cross-cut saw and bottle of oil, the rigging crew wrestling with logs, the grimy engineer at the levers of the huge donkey engine, the loaders jumping from log to log like young acrobats.

They're not thinking of our national problems. They're not worried by any crisis. They're thinking about their logs, about their jobs, about their women and their dinners.

YOUNG COUNTRY

OUT HERE YOU REALIZE something that the statesmen always forget—that this is still a young, pioneer country. These are pioneers, these men clearing land, these men cutting trees. We live in the city, where we get the illusion of age and civilization because there are cluster lights and shop windows and the same movies as they see in New York. Few of us ever get off the pavement, out on the land, out in the woods, and see where all our wealth comes from, how our cities grow, all unseen, out of the earth.

We don't realize, riding about in automobiles, that we are still on the frontier—still rough and crude, still in our boisterous youth. Give us time and we will change all this. This Vancouver Island may be all cleared and fenced, with cottages and gardens, like the landscape of England and France, in a couple of centuries.

We are young yet, and rough and impatient. We build shacks between the stumps. But the good farm lands widen year by year, the fruit trees grow, the shacks are replaced by houses, little towns grow up. We are getting along. We are growing and developing, though you wouldn't suspect it, listening to our politicians and the statistics of our economists.

With Wheat Guarantees and Tariffs Canada's Fiscal Situation Becomes "Joke"

From Winnipeg Free Press

SENSIBLE WESTERNERS

they are still in the majority—don't want a 60-cent guaranteed price for wheat. They don't want an 80-cent price. They don't want a dollar. They don't want a guaranteed price at all. They want instead, first and foremost on the list, a free trading world, and a Canada in which equal opportunities are given to all to produce and sell what they can produce best. What they hate most of all is the continuing of privilege in any of its forms.

So long as privilege continues they recognize that they may have to have a 60-cent guarantee, or an 80-cent guarantee, or some other form of help. But Canada as a whole should recognize, as Parliament begins its discussion of the 1939 wheat legislation, that the prairie's chief need is unaltered. What we want most of all is to see the tariff come down and the burdens that attach to the tariff disappear. If agricultural Canada and industrial Canada were thus put on an even footing, there would be little ground left for any special pleas for help.

This is the historic case of the western farmer against federal fiscal policy. He has maintained it times without number. He has rarely made any headway with it. He has now—and again got just enough encouragement to keep up the fight. It remains the first plank in any western platform. Because it has now been overlaid by the stubborn refusal of successive governments to perform the drastic action needed on the tariff, it does not follow that that plank no longer holds good. It does. If the west saw that operation performed there would be no agitation for countervailing subsidies to offset the tariff. They would not be needed.

From a fiscal point of view, the present situation is a joke. Industrial Canada refuses to part with its protection. Vested interests all over the country howl their complaints when a hand is laid on the sacred cow of protection. But, quite unable to meet the logic of the western farmer, Parliament reluctantly accedes to western needs, and prepares to subsidize them. Thus Parliament subsidizes industry by protecting it, and forces the taxpayer to subsidize the farmer so that the latter can pay the tariff costs. Could anything be more fundamentally absurd?

The sad feature of the thing is, of course, that it is not a matter of tax and counter-tax. The tariff, in its protective features, puts no money in the federal treasury. It just raises the prices of all goods. The consumers get soaked. But the taxpayer is keenly conscious of the drain out of the treasury to pay the subsidy to the wheat-growers. Thus, one subsidy is paid unconsciously, the other consciously. It is the latter process that causes the dismay and unrest.

BUT IF THE wheat grower just got an even break, he would ask for nothing at all. He would want nothing at all. He would be getting his goods as cheaply as could be. He would then be prepared to take his chances with industrial Canada in trying to sell his goods the same way. But what he can't bear is the steady drain out of his thinly-lined pockets to pay tariff costs which have been estimated, by experts, at around $50,000,000 annually for the prairie dwellers alone. Take that load off his back and then see what policy the Western Wheat Committee would advocate. There would be mighty little about subsidy left in their program. They would get down to brass tacks on a new basis—or rather on the old basis writ large.

Incidentally it would be interesting to watch what would happen to the far-famed railway problem if this solution for our troubles were sought. The trouble with the railways is that they have not got enough freight. That's all. It is not a problem at all in the form that it is, always put up to the public. It is lack of traffic that is causing transportation, anaemia in this country. Restore western purchasing power on the sensible basis of providing equality of opportunity to all, and watch what would happen to railway earnings. They would go up like a skyrocket on a summer morning and the lamentations from Toronto and Montreal would die down into a murmur unheard above the roar of the trains themselves. But nobody seems to think that this is a solution of the railway problem. Instead delicate schemes of sabotage are cooked up, all with the same silly artificial basis of creating prosperity by strangling the consumer.

It is not going to be done that way. Prosperity will never come that way. But so long as the sensible course is not followed we are going to remain in the rut of our present despair, looking for mutual hand-outs by which we can bonus each other to give us the money to pay ourselves what we insist on having. There is, of course, only one long-run end to this state of affairs. But we won't go into that today. Just the same, the idea of freeing trade is something still worth doing. We should not lose sight of it out here in western Canada, even if the federal Parliament is slow to see the light.

MR. HEPBURN'S STYLE
From Ottawa Journal
Before us is a copy of the Melbourne (Australia) Argus. Featured in it is an interview with Premier Hepburn of Ontario, who was then in Sydney. Thus:

"Canada is a country without national leadership," said the Premier of Ontario (Mr. Mitchell Hepburn) in an interview to-night.

And—
"The Canadian provinces, with the exception of Ontario, were floundering and drifting on a sea of debt," Mr. Hepburn said.

And—
"In 1935 the Bank of Canada, a central bank, was established, but it had done nothing. It was invested with powers that had never been used. In fact, he did not know what good it was."

Thus Mr. Mitchell Hepburn to the second largest newspaper in Australia. For the public man who attacks his own country within his own country there is something to be said; this even though the criticism be unjust. For the public man who fouls his country in another land there is nothing to be said. It is something for the charity of silence.

HEREDITY
From Canadian Doctor
You had a mother and father, two grandmothers and two grandfathers. Take the number of years that each of these ancestors lived, add them together and divide by six. The result will give you—very roughly—your hereditary life expectancy. Having obtained this figure of the number of years you can expect to live, probably the best thing you can do is to throw it away and forget it—after allowing it to impress the lesson that heredity is a powerful factor in determining a person's span of life.

Daughters of Nile Install New Officers

Mrs. Nellie Davis Is Crowned at Temple Ceremony

To the accompaniment of impressive ritual and colorful ceremonial the annual installation of the Miriam Temple, Daughters of the Nile, was held in the Shrine Temple last night, in the presence of members of the Temple and interested friends.

Masses of flowers, including daffodils, forsythia and greenery, together with Oriental rugs and draperies and softly shaded lamps enhanced the exotic setting, the Oriental headresses worn by the participating officers and members adding to the picturesque ceremony.

SUPREME RECORDER

Past Queen Mabel Handley acted as installing officer, performing the ceremony with dignity and grace. Mrs. L. K. West of Seattle, Supreme Recorder, was a guest of honor at the installation and complimented the Temple and officers on the installation and reminded the officers that they were opening a new book for the Temple for 1938-39. On its clean pages she hoped they would inscribe many noble deeds to add to their splendid record of the past.

Mrs. Nellie Davis was installed as the new Queen of the Temple, succeeding Mrs. Mabel Birnie, who is now Junior Past Queen.

Mrs. David was handsomely gowned in velvet with a full court train of green velvet edged with ermine, and carried a beautiful bouquet, and during the installation was crowned by Mrs. Handley with a jeweled crown.

OTHER OFFICERS

The other officers installed, were as follows: Princess Royal, Mrs. Sarah McPherson; Princess Tizah, Mrs. Jessie Smith; Princess Badoura, Mrs. Jessie Meiss; Princess Recorder, Miss Thelma Birnie; Princess Banker, Mrs. Emily Cameron; Princess Marshal, Miss Ethel Brown; Princess Chaplain, Mrs. Ethel Wood; Princess Musician, Mrs. Jennie Lillie; Lady of the Keys, Mrs. Amy Davies; Lady of the Gates, Mrs. Mabel Horne; ladies-in-waiting, Princess Nydia, Mrs. Maude Savage; Princess Zuleika, Mrs. Eva Warren; Princess Zenobia, Mrs. Hazel McConnell; Princess Zora, Mrs. Edna Davies; Princess Zuleima, Miss Doris Horne; attendants, Mrs. Sadie Hood and Mrs. Beatrice Buckle; standard bearer, Mrs. Florrie Phillips.

The installing marshal was Past Queen Mrs. Margaret Hemmings and the installing chaplain, Past Queen Mrs. Jennie Lillie.

GIFTS PRESENTED

Mrs. Birnie, the outgoing queen, presented flowers to the installing officers as a personal gift and on behalf of the Temple and the officers, gifts were presented to Mrs. Birnie in appreciation of her successful "reign," Queen Nellie Davis and Princess Royal, Mrs. S. McPherson, making the presentations.

The presentation of the queen's jewel to Mrs. Birnie was made by Past Queen Mrs. Florence Luney. The soloist of the evening was Noble Mr. Robert Morrison, the accompanist being Miss Thelma Birnie, and incidental music during the ceremony was played by Past Queen Mrs. Edna Clark.

After the formal ceremonies, a banquet was enjoyed at tables beautifully arranged with spring flowers.

CHINESE- CANADIAN Y.P.S.

The Chinese (1) Youth Forum met at the home of Miss Alice Gee, with Herbert Chan Dunn, regional chairman, in the chair. The gold diploma presented by the Drama Association to the Golden Dragon Dramatic Group was ordered to be framed.

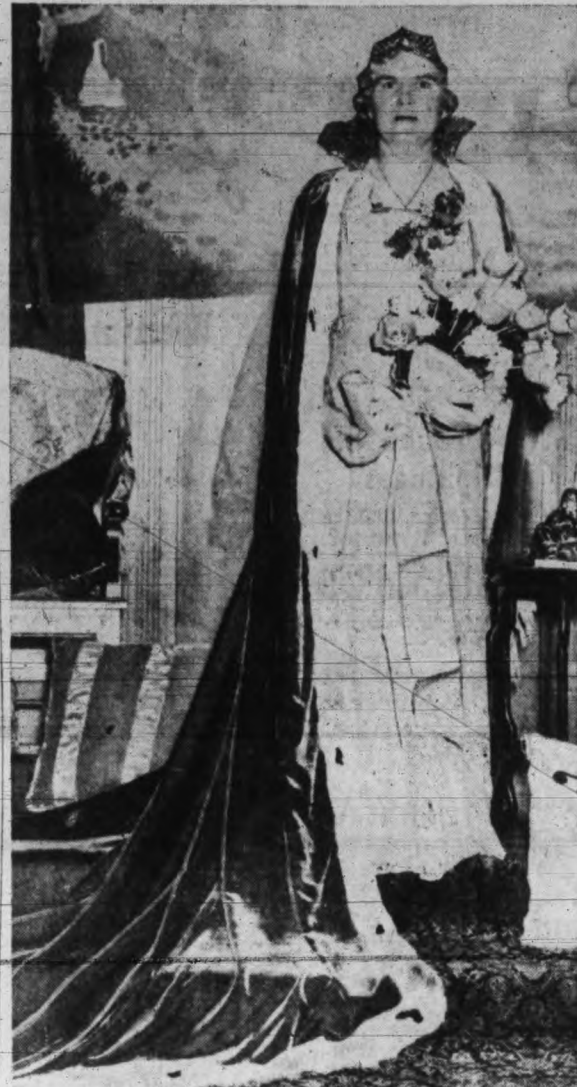

Douglas Jung gave a report of the Forum pictures and it was decided to investigate the possibility of keeping a collection in an album. Douglas Jung and Ying Hope reported on the hike to Saxe Point last Sunday in spite of the rain. Dora Lowe spoke on the work of the B.C. Drama Association, and it was decided to send a delegate.

A discussion on the forthcoming Amsterdam conference followed and the forum voted a sum of $2.50 to assist in sending a representative to the Holland conclave. Every member was urged to study the pre-conference material, now being distributed by the Victoria section of the National Central Committee.

Plans for the second anniversary celebration of the Forum are to be discussed at the next meeting of the local council in charge of Alice Gee, the chairman, and Violet Lore, the secretary.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Captain and Mrs. W. A. Gosse, Oliver Street, have staying with them Mrs. Gosse's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Schulz of Atlin.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Mugford, Monterey Avenue, will leave on Friday by motor for San Francisco on a short trip to California.

Mrs. C. J. Bunbury, Foul Bay Road, will spend Easter at Sasenos as the guest of Mrs. H. L. Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. McCarter, Craigdarroch, left this afternoon for Seattle to spend the week-end with friends.

Hon. William C. Simmons and Mrs. Simmons, the Uplands, will have with them for the Easter season their daughter, Mrs. B. T. McDonagh of Vancouver.

The many friends of Mrs. W. L. Elliott of Lacombe, Alta., who has been spending the winter in Victoria will be sorry to know she is seriously ill in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Magrath, St. Charles Street, and Miss Laura Magrath, who have been spending some time in Eastern Canada, returned home yesterday.

Miss Dora Wilkie, R.N., of New York, arrived by plane from the east on Monday, called by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. O. B. N. Wilkie of Quebec Street, who is a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Fyfe of Banff, who have been spending the winter in Victoria, left this afternoon for Vancouver where they will visit with friends for a few days, prior to returning to their home in the interior.

Mrs. W. G. Crawford, Pemberton Road, has returned home after visiting up-country with her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Crawford of Penticton, and her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Schwengers of Nelson.

In honor of Mrs. L. W. Dales, who celebrated her 86th birthday yesterday, her daughter, Mrs. V. MacDonald, and her granddaughters, Mrs. J. W. Hill and Mrs. L. Grant, were hostesses at the tea hour yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hill, 1316 Carmesw. Street. A handsome lace cloth covered the tea table which was centred with a crystal bowl filled with daffodils and flanked with lighted yellow tapers in crystal holders. A birthday cake with its attendant candles was also a feature of the table appointments. Mrs. Grant and Mrs. MacDonald presided at the tea table and were assisted by Mrs. Hill in serving. The guests included Mrs. J. Armstrong, Mrs. G. Ford, Mrs. R. Clark, Mrs. Dickson, Miss Mildred Dickson, Mrs. William Bartlett, Mrs. Allan Strugnell, Mrs. Mark Cuzner, Mrs. Oliver Stout, Mrs. Elizabeth Proctor, Mrs. Walter Luney, Mrs. Alfred Ainscough, Mrs. Robert Owens and Mrs. Robert McKean.

Mr. Ian Angus of Victoria and his brother, Mr. David Angus of Vancouver, have left on a month's trip to Montreal and New York.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gillis have returned home after spending the winter months in Southern California and Arizona. On the return trip they visited the fair at San Francisco.

Mr. Ernest Eve was host at his home, 933 Empress Avenue, last night to members of his aviation class at the Night School. A jolly evening was spent, and the students much enjoyed viewing his collection of historic pictures and interesting models, showing the progress of aviation since its earliest days.

Mrs. G. H. Scarrett entertained the members of the Ladies' Aid of the Church of Our Lord at her home at the University School on Monday afternoon, this being the final meeting for the season. Miss H. Newberry, the president, gave an account of the successful Easter sale of work and tea held last week. Over 30 ladies were present. Tea was afterwards served, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. F. M. Shandley and Miss G. Hawthorne.

Miss Dorothy Vye was guest of honor on Sunday afternoon when Miss Charlotte Axhorn entertained at the tea hour at her home on Niagara Street. Miss Vye, an April bride-to-be, was presented with a gift of pyrex ware from the assembled guests. Tea was served at a table attractively decorated in a yellow and pale green Easter motif. The invited guests were: Mrs. L. M. Vye, Mrs. C. Milton, Mrs. G. Randall, Mrs. B. Axhorn, Miss Audrey Applegate, Miss Jean McNaught, Miss Gwen Vye and Miss Lillian Vye.

Of interest to many island friends is the engagement announced between Diana, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Myers of Croydon, England, and Derek Lukin Johnston, only son of Mrs. Johnston of Vancouver, and the late E. H. Lukin Johnston. The wedding will take place early in May. The groom-elect's father will be remembered as a prominent journalist, both in Vancouver with the Daily Province and in London as correspondent for the Southern newspapers.

Miss Evelyn B. Foster was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given by the members of the bridge club on Monday evening at the home of Miss Freda Carter, Burdett Avenue. On her arrival she was presented with a corsage bouquet of pale pink carnations and forget-me-nots. The many lovely shower gifts were concealed in a chest decorated in pale blue petals and pink rosebuds. Pale pink carnations in a silver basket, flanked by pale blue tapers in silver holders, centred the supper table. Those present included Mrs. S. Feldon and the Misses Doree Patterson, Anna Balnave, Ann Field, Lillian Foster, "Babe" Gleason, Jessie

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dance and parties. BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls who are full of pep. So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to get "peppiness" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders. You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!

Home Ceremony Unites Young Couple

Miss Margaret Peddle Pretty Bride of Harvey Patterson

Against a background of masses of spring flowers, a pretty wedding was solemnized at "Prestwood Brae," Union Avenue, Saanich, the home of the bride's parents, last evening at 8:30 when Margaret Jane, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Peddle, became the bride of Mr. Harvey Northcliffe Patterson, elder son of Rev. J. S. and Mrs. Patterson, North Quadra Street.

The ceremony was performed by the groom's father, who is pastor of St. Columba Presbyterian Church, Vancouver, assisted by Rev. Samuel Lundie of Sooke Presbyterian Church, in the presence of about 70 guests.

Entering the room with her father to the strains of the Lohengrin "Bridal Chorus," played by Mrs. L. Stewart, the bride was a radiant figure in her graceful gown of white satin, with a full skirt flowing into a brief train. The low-necked bodice was shirred at the shoulders and waist, and the sleeves long and pointed. The filmy, embroidered veil fell from a wreath of orange blossom and posy of white violets on her head, and formed a long train. She carried a bouquet of carnations, roses and freesias.

Miss Florence Peddle was her sister's bridesmaid, in a floor-length frock of gold satin with tight elbow sleeves. She wore a tiny hat covered with mauve flowers and a veil over her face, and she held a bouquet of mauve sweet peas and white carnations. Mr. Richard Day was best man.

FLORAL BACKGROUND
During the ceremony the bride couple stood beneath an arch and wedding bell banked with daffodils and Japanese plum blossom. The reception rooms were massed with daffodils and other spring flowers. As the register was being signed, Miss Elsie Robinson sang "All Joy Be Thine" and "Still as the Night."

Mrs. Peddle received the guests in a smart gown of royal blue georgette and matching hat, with a corsage bouquet of cream roses, and Mrs. Patterson wore a becoming frock of rose beige lace with black accessories, and corsage bouquet of sweet peas and carnations.

A lace cloth covered the supper table, which was centred with a three-tier cake standing between vases of daffodils, and white tapers in silver candelabra. Mr. William Kilby, an old family friend, proposed the toast to the bride.

After a honeymoon trip to the mainland, for which the bride left in a grey suit, a smart black hat, and an old gold jumper, and holding a matching gold purse, Mr. and Mrs. Patterson will make their home at Lake Hill.

Among the numerous gifts were a gold satin bedspread, a reversible blanket and a luncheon cloth from the former associates of the bride in David Spencer Ltd.; a case of flat silver from the fellow workers of the bridegroom at Adam's Foundry, and a table lamp from the Lake Hill Badminton Club, of which the bride and groom are members.

St. Alban's Ladies' Society will meet on Saturday at 1:30 to decorate the church. Donations of flowers and greenery may be left at the church on Friday evening or Saturday morning.

Clubwomen's News

Owing to the intervention of Good Friday, items intended for the Women's Page next Saturday must be received in writing in this office not later than Thursday morning.

The monthly meeting of the Centennial Evening Auxiliary of the W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. A. Corry, Hillside Avenue, on Monday, Mrs. J. Alton presiding. The meeting opened with a responsive reading. An Easter message was read by Mrs. Alton, after which the members joined in Bible reading. The second chapter of the study book, "The World in Canada," was given by Mrs. Penray. Mrs. Alton gave a short address on missionary work in the foreign fields. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

The monthly mothers' meeting of Emmanuel Baptist Church was held last week, Mrs. Waite presiding. Dr. A. S. Imrie led the sing-song, also gave an interesting talk on how a believer in Christ was guided always in the right direction. Mrs. Dearbourn delighted the audience with elocution numbers. Tea was served at the close, hostesses being Mrs. Marjorie, Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Cogswell. Mrs. Zala and Mrs. Miles poured the tea. Dr. Imrie moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Dearbourn and the hostesses. Next meeting will be April 27.

Gonzales Chapter, I.O.D.E., met yesterday morning, Mrs. B. H. T. Drake the regent, in the chair. Mrs. W. C. Nichol was elected honorary regent. A new member was proposed, Miss Olive Heisterman. The educational secretary, Mrs. G. F. N. Jennings, reported that donations of pictures from the members had been forwarded to Cecil Lake. Members wishing to attend the provincial meeting at Vancouver are requested to get in touch with Mrs. Ernst Eve, E2117. The next sewing meeting will be held at the home of the vice-regent, Mrs. A. Chisholm, 1146 St. David Street, Oak Bay, on Wednesday, April 12, at 2:30.

Mrs. H. A. Christie presided at the monthly meeting of the W.A. of First United Church on Monday afternoon. The devotional period was taken by Mrs. A. A. Skellern and Mrs. Walter Walker. Two Easter solos were given by Mrs. R. H. Nash, accompanied by Mrs. H. Silver. The bazaar committee announced the date of the fall bazaar for November 15, and the various circles reported the plans now in progress for this event. The speaker, Mr. J. W. Gibson, took as his topic, "Educational Horizons," outlining the advances that have been made to date and the possibilities for the future. Tea was served and a social half hour was enjoyed.

Final arrangements were made at the monthly meeting on Monday afternoon of the Lake Hill Women's Institute for their annual daffodil tea, cooking quiz competition and poster display on "Traffic Safety" to be held in Lake Hill Community Hall on Thursday afternoon, April 13 from 2:30 to 5 p.m. Mrs. Findlay reported the Bapco pictures were shown in the hall. Mrs. A. S. Moffat read a item of interest "Lady Tweedsmuir's Message to Rural Women." Mrs. W. S. Webster, president, reported on the reception held at Craigflower by the South Vancouver Island District Board for Her Excellency, Lady Tweedsmuir. Tea was served by the hostesses, Mesdames R. W. Mercer and W. Carpenter.

Catholic Women Ban Salacious Literature

Campaign Feature Of Diocesan League's Activity

Mrs. Wm. McManus was unanimously elected president of the Catholic Women's League, Diocesan, Subdivision, at the annual meeting held last night in the Bishop's Palace, succeeding Mrs. Blair Reid, the retiring president. Other officers, elected by acclamation, were:

First vice-president, Mrs. E. Hornsby; second vice-president, Mrs. F. T. Porter; third vice-president, Mrs. J. J. O'Brien; recording secretary, Miss M. Clay; corresponding secretary, Miss V. Babington; treasurer, Mrs. A. F. Windau; councillors, Mesdames D. Dances, Lennax, Howard, F. W. Webb, P. Shaw and E. Tharrait.

Mrs. M. J. Haley, secretary, in her comprehensive report, reviewed the year's activities. She noted that:

"An intensive campaign against salacious literature is being carried on this year by means of a pledge to refrain from buying or reading magazines or papers which seek to degrade our moral and spiritual standards. In this connection we contemplate helping to finance a Catholic circulating library in the near future."

Hospital visiting has been carried on regularly and comforts or necessities given to the patients. During the Christmas season gifts were made to the Catholic inmates of the Home for the Aged, the Catholic children in hospitals and at the Solarium, and donations made to the bishop, clergy and Poor Clare Sisters," the report continued.

"The remailing of Catholic literature to those living in isolated areas is taken care of by Mrs. J. J. O'Brien and her committee. This work also includes the sending of unused school books to the children living in Father Bradley's missions. During the past year Mrs. O'Brien also inaugurated a mending committee, which meets twice a month at St. Louis College and takes care of the mending for the Christian Brothers.

"Other activities carried on during the year are the supplying of cocoa to the boys of St. Louis College during the winter months. History prizes are donated to St. Ann's Academy and Kindergarten and St. Louis College. During the Eucharistic Congress a donation of $10 was given toward supplying refreshments to the visiting Indians, and the league decorated the pioneer convent on the route of the procession.

Mrs. J. D. Kissinger reported as child welfare convener. Miss Harriet O'Brien, social service convener, told of assisting needy families through the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

Study clubs under the convener of Miss M. Clay are making rapid progress, and two lay retreats for women were conducted during the year at St. Ann's Convent, under the convener of Miss Clay.

The subject of according the privilege to students of Catholic schools to attend manual training and domestic science classes as conducted by the Department of Education is being followed up, and Dr. G. M. Weir, the Minister of Education, has been approached in this regard, the report noted.

Weddings
SIMMS-DURRANT

In the vestry of the First United Church this afternoon at 2:30, Rev. Hugh MacLeod united in marriage Violet, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Durrant of 727 Herald Street, and Mr. William Simms, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Simms, 3226 Orillia Street.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a light grey tailored flannel suit with accessories in the new japonica shade, while her corsage bouquet was of gardenias.

She was attended by Miss Jennie Morrow, wearing a navy, blue tailored suit with blue accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations. The best man was Mr. Vernon Simms, brother of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony a family gathering was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Durrant, wearing a wine-colored silk dress with matching accessories, and Mrs. Simms in a japonica-colored silk dress with fawn hat, received the guests. They wore corsage bouquets of pink carnations. A three-tier wedding cake centred the table, which had a centerpiece of daffodils flanked with lighted yellow tapers in silver sconces.

BLYTH-GLEDHILL

In the vestry of the First United Church on Saturday afternoon, the marriage was quietly solemnized of Donna Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Gledhill of Bella Coola, B.C., to Mr. William S. Blyth, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Blyth, 554 Niagara Street. Rev. Hugh MacLeod officiated.

Wants Royal Rank For Duchess of Windsor

LONDON (CP-Havas) — Recognition of the Duchess of Windsor as "Her Royal Highness" was urged today by Lord

Beaverbrook's Daily Express. Termination of the Duke of Windsor's exile would be of general benefit, the editorial said, declaring that refusal to accord his wife royal rank was a "petty injustice."

The editorial asserted: "It is the universal rule for a wife to take the status of her husband. Earl Baldwin insisted on the rule at the time of the abdication crisis. A king's wife, he said, must be queen. A morganatic marriage was an institution unknown in this country. He refused to allow it to King Edward. "The Duke of Windsor now had a morganatic marriage forced on him. His wife is not granted his own rank. This petty injustice is a poor return for the service which he gave to his country."

Sally Shop Opened Here
New Women's Fashion Shop Now Open For Business

Victoria's newest centre of fashion interest is the new Sally Shop which opened its doors to the public today in the Fletcher Building, near the corner of Douglas and Fort Streets.

Sally Shops are well known in Vancouver and New Westminster for quality of merchandise and up-to-dateness of styles.

Victoria's new Sally Shop will be a specialty shop, featuring women's coats, suits, dresses, lingerie, hosiery and sports wear.

A large expenditure has been made to alter the premises and to install the very latest modern fixtures.

"Our merchandising policy," said Miss E. Pirie, manageress of the newly-opened store, "is to turn over our stock at a very rapid rate. A large volume of sales will enable us to feature fresh styles every week. We will offer styles for all occasions for the smart women of Victoria."

Central W.C.T.U. will meet on Thursday, April 13, instead of tomorrow. The meeting will be held at the Y.W.C.A. at 3, and Mrs. James Gray of Vancouver, provincial president, will be the speaker. Members of other W.C.T.U. branches are being invited to attend.

CRESCENT SHOWS TO OPEN FRIDAY

New Attractions Will Be Included On Amusement Lot This Year

The Crescent shows will open in Victoria on Friday of this week on Quadra Street, in the vicinity of Central Park. Their riding devices are glistening with new paint, and there are many new, interesting features.

The show wintered in Victoria and during recent weeks 60 men have been busy night and day preparing for the 1939 season.

In addition to the old-time favorites, like the ferris wheel and merry-go-round, there is a new kiddie ride that will delight the youngsters, as well as new features on the Wall of Death. There will also be the armless wonder, who can do more with her feet than most people can with their hands. There is also the Palace of Wonders, with fire eaters and magicians. Special mention should be made of the midge mother, whose son of five years is head and shoulders above her.

Young Woman Held As Spy Ring Head

GENEVA (AP)—Held by the Swiss government as the master mind of an international spy ring, pretty Virginia Rata Capt. Italian-born dancer, was transferred from jail to a hospital yesterday after four days of her second hunger strike since she was arrested with eight others last December 19.

At the time of her arrest, the Swiss telegraphic agency reported she and the others of the group had been practicing espionage to the detriment of France and to the profit of a great power.

Not only do Asiatic people admire the lotus for its beauty, but they use its seeds and thick root stock for food.

NEW STORE HAS WESTERN AUTO ACCESSORIES

New Victoria Firm Will Serve Motoring Public With Complete Stock in Modern Building

A most welcome service to motorists of Victoria and vicinity is that afforded by the establishment of a complete auto accessory store selling Western Auto Supply Company merchandise at Quadra and View Streets. H. J. (Bud) Sims, owner of the new Victoria enterprise, opens his store here tomorrow, and on the first day he will distribute souvenirs.

Mr. Sims was born in Victoria and is well known here. He has recently spent several months in the large Vancouver branch of the Western Auto Supply Co. Ltd., familiarizing himself with the many details of the business. The store building has been equipped with modern fixtures, especially designed for the customer's convenience. Inside, it is arranged by departments, with all merchandise of a kind grouped together and all similar articles displayed side by side, so that the customer can quickly make his selection of the thing that best suits his purse and purpose.

H. J. SIMS

Mr. Sims states that service is the watchword in his new store and he believes that motorists will particularly appreciate the wide selection offered.

An important advantage of the store is its completeness: Among the several thousand items will be found such famous names as Western Giant tires, Western Giant and Wizard batteries, Penn Supreme and Long Run motor oils and Hollywood seat covers. Of equal high quality are the replacement parts, accessories, repair needs, tools and camping equipment that are sold at the local store.

Mr. George Simpson Jr. will assist in serving the customers. Mr. Simpson, who was born in Victoria, has had special mechanical training at the Fairbanks-Morse Company factory in Beloit, Wisconsin.

Sooke

A meeting of the Sooke Community Association was held in Sooke Community Hall, Monday evening, the chair being taken by C. A. Helgesen, vice-president. Discussion took place on the allotting of space in the basement of the hall to the Sooke branch of the Canadian Legion for the purpose of a clubroom. The matter of arranging the final details was left in the hands of the directors and a committee appointed by the Legion and the Women's Auxiliary. Plans were completed for the old-time dance which will be held in Sooke Hall, April 21.

Father's Pet Favored in Life

Rejected Children Imagine Enemies, Psychologists Report

BRYN MAWR, Pa.—The child who is father's favorite, whether boy or girl, faces a life worth living, Dr. Ross Stagner, of the University of Akron, told the meeting of the Eastern Psychological Association here. But being mother's favorite does not insure such a happy lot.

Intimate revelations from more than 150 boys and girls aged 18 to 25, collected for Dr. Stagner by Dr. Maurice Krout, of Chicago City Junior College, showed how parents mold the personality of youth.

Girls who are father's favorite daydream often. Boys who are mother's favorite are forgetful.

When father prefers a son, the sister is likely to have feelings of suffocation. When mother prefers a son, however, sister is suspicious of others.

Boys whose fathers prefer a daughter believe they have enemies. Boys, so rejected by their mothers, may report an unreasoning impulse to take things.

Boys whose fathers are distant toward them may have thoughts of suicide; if their mothers are distant, they are more likely to develop neurotic pains and dizzy spells.

Girls kept distant by their fathers often report feelings of suffocation, dizzy spells and headaches. Kept distant by their mothers, they have difficulty in expressing affection, have a feeling of unparadise sin, and are careful with their language. They may also have an impulse to take things and think of suicide.

Boys should want to emulate their fathers, but not their mothers, this inquiry seems to indicate. Boys who want to be like father have few worries, few feelings of remorse and no thoughts of suicide.

If they want to be like mother, they are likely to be remorseful, have dizzy spells and forgetfulness, and to think they have enemies.

Girls can want to emulate father, however. They have no headaches or dizzy spells, and they are conservative, they claim, with money. If they want to be like mother, they are affectionate and get along well with the boys, but they may be forgetful and believe they have enemies.

Boredom Banished BY COFFEE

Boredom can be banished by a cup of coffee, it was learned from a report by Dr. Joseph E. Barmack of the College of the City of New York.

Fifty people working at the dull, monotonous work of adding six-place figures were the "guinea pigs" of Dr. Barmack's experiment. Half the group were given a capsule containing two grains of caffeine, slightly less than the amount contained in an average cup of coffee. The other half were given dummy capsules.

Those taking the caffeine kept up the speed of their work and felt less fatigue, boredom and inattentiveness than those who had the dummy capsules.

ALLERGIC CHILDREN STRONGER IN LEADERSHIP

Child sufferers from hay-fever, asthma, hives and other allergies are not only more likely to be superior in intelligence than normal children but they are stronger in leadership, Miss Olga E. de Cillis and Dr. Bernard F. Reiss, of Hunter College, told the psychologists.

Personality tests were given to 139 eight to sixteen-year-old child patients in the Pediatric Allergy Clinic of New York Hospital and these were compared with results on 117 allergy-free public school children.

The allergic children are more inclined to leadership and the go-getter type of personality. They will talk back to a friend who is bossy, "tell the groceryman that it is my turn when he tries to wait on someone else first," and they start the fun at a quiet party. They like to spend money, feel at home at parties and don't keep quiet when with other people. They don't worry about their mistakes.

Children with skin allergies have higher scores in leadership than do the other allergies. And those with skin and mixed allergies are more likely to be emotionally unstable.

COFFEE SOBERS DRINKING DRIVER

CHICAGO — The drinking driver who tries to sober up by means of very strong coffee succeeds briefly. However, after a short time he is less fit for driving than before he drank the coffee.

This conclusion is drawn from tests made in Germany at the Institute of Forensic Medicine, Heidelberg University, according to the Berlin correspondent of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Except for coffee toppers, there is a brief period of recovery from intoxication after a cup of strong coffee. Fatigue disappears, the gait is steadier and speech improves.

However, the coffee soon wears off to leave the drinker so relaxed that driving is unsafe.

If coffee drinking after consumption of alcohol is accompanied by the smoking of cigarettes, the short-term sobering effect of the coffee is in large part offset by the nicotine, the German physician found.

PIXIES SWARM FOR WORLD'S FAIR

NEW YORK — The screwballs, crackpots and professional pixies are descending upon Manhattan like PUNCHINELLOs now that the curtain-raising time of the World's Fair draws closer. By April 30, the influx should turn Gotham topsy-turvy in a manner unrivaled since the frenzied days of 1853 when the Crystal Palace launched the fair motif in New York.

Already there is a baker's dozen of lady parachute jumpers who have set up headquarters within city limits. The hardest of the lot has been ferreting out possible promoters from one end of town to the other, trying to get the necessary wampum for a hop out of a plane from the stratosphere.

This aerial Amazon would trail World's Fair ballyhoo from a distance above this earth never yet attempted by anyone. She claims scientific research, all the gadgets invented for parachute plunging and a thorough experience in skywalking to her credit.

The toll for any intrigued promoter?—$5,000. And the lady already has picked out the Mojave Desert as her setting down place. She'll probably wind up extolling the virtues of some Manhattan night spot, via a portable microphone and a coast-to-coast hookup, en route from the stratosphere some time in May.

FLAGPOLE FLOP

The legion of flagpole sitters is headed by Shipwreck Kelly, who only the other day was bemoaning the fact that the army of his competitors now encamped in the Broadway vicinity has gutted the market on flagpole squatters. Shipwreck has been knocking on Mr. Whalen's door, without success, for a fortnight now. His latest scheme is a feminine partner who sits atop his shoulders, and Shipwreck already has the site picked out.

Mr. Kelly will probably turn out to be the most frustrated fair man of them all—with that huge trylon poking its nose into the blue over Flushing and nary a sou'wester occupying the top of it!

WHALE OF AN IDEA

Only a few weeks ago a gentleman who had previously grabbed off some degree of space in the public prints by peddling an ice-box to an Eskimo, breezed into town with a trained whale. His scheme was to set up the whale, the only live housebroken blubber behemoth in captivity, in a mammoth bath tub out at the Flushing Fantasy and sell advertising on the leviathan's back.

Every time the sea-going gargantuan leaped into the ozone, the praises of some hair tonic or patent medicine would accompany it. The fair's decision on the mammoth has been tabled.

BIKES AND PONIES

Quite naturally, most of the dementia has been centred around Billy Rose, who is no exemplar of conservatism himself. All sorts of witchcrafts, medicine-men and other tollers of the fakir industry have been trekking through the Rose portals.

A Leonard Spielberg crashed the bitsy Barnum's atelier only the other day with a desire to bicycle across the nation—backwards, with Rose's banner floating from the rear wheel. The day before, a hardy horseman beleaguered the mighty midget of Broadway with an offer to travel pony-express fashion from Manhattan to Los Angeles on horseback, passing out handbills along the highways for a $1,000 fee.

From 60 degrees north latitude to the North Pole, more than 1,000,000 people make their homes, but from 60 degrees south latitude to the South Pole, there is not one permanent human resident.

So That You May Know Sixty Thousand Unemployed Dollars Want Work in Victoria

Sixty thousand dollars have been ready and waiting to go to work in this community for the benefit of wage-earners, merchants, landlords, storekeepers, etc.

But They Have Been Held Up Through No Fault of Their Own

At the civic elections last December the voters recorded their preference for a continuation of street car service for a period up to five years (subsequently reduced to three years by arrangement made between the council and the company) under terms and conditions definitely stated by Mr. W. G. Murrin, president of the B.C. Electric Railway Company. These are, briefly:

Present fare and operating conditions to continue.

$60,000 to be expended on betterments to tracks and rolling stock, over and above ordinary expenditures; the bulk of which $60,000 to be expended immediately.

This Offer Was Definitely Accepted by the Voters of the City of Victoria at the Last Civic Elections

The Mayor, in his pre-election speeches, definitely stated he would "respect the wishes of the people." (Victoria Daily Times, December 9, 1938).

In view of these facts:

1. The clear-cut offer made by Mr. Murrin.
2. The definite promise made by the Mayor.
3. The already expressed preference of the voters.

We submit there has been needless delay and that the proposed plebiscite on April 13 will be an unnecessary and useless expense upon the people.

Outstanding Work By School Choirs

Thomas Hodgson Group
Scores Highest Marks
At Nanaimo Festival

NANAIMO—Outstanding work by school choirs was the feature of the third day of the upper island musical festival here.

Dr. William Plenderleith, inspector of schools, officially opened the festival, and Dr. Frederick Stanton made the sessions interesting with constructive criticisms in the choir classes, when Miss Gladys Walls, directing Thomas Hodgson School Choir, captured the highest marks of the day, totaling 169 for two test pieces. Miss Walls scored highest marks in the boys' school choirs, receiving the same number of marks.

Praise went up generally to the adjudicator for placing both choirs on the platform and by demonstration showing the reason that decided the awards.

Miss Jean Campbell of Winnipeg adjudicated the elocution classes.

Results were as follows:
Elocution, under 10 years — Kenneth Best, 80; Ronald Bainbridge, 75.

Boys under eight — Maureen Quigg, 81; Pat O'Shaughnessy, 75.

Girls under six — Muriel Peake, 82; Barbara Anne Crossman, 75.

Girls under 10 — Mary Neill, 81; Dorothy Bestwick and Barbara Martin, 80.

Boys under 13 — Billy Forrester, 81; Norris Bainbridge, Richard Stephenson, 75.

Girls under 16 — Margaret Stephenson, 80.

Girls under 13 — Sylvia Bradwell, 84; Jean Cook, 83.

Girls under 16 — Adele Dunsmore, 84.

Under 8, mixed — Thea Lindsay, 80; Kenneth Smith, 77.

School choirs, three-four — Harwood School, 162; Miss Violet Wilson, conductor. Thomas Hodgson School, 169; Miss Walls, conductor.

Boys' choir—Thomas Hodgson School, 169, Miss Walls, conductor.

Mayor W. W. Walkem of Ladysmith opened the evening session and congratulated the committee for their efforts in advancing cultural life of the upper island on behalf of his city.

Further results follow:
Violin, open—James Anderson, 86.

Girls' solo, under 19 — Adele Dunsmore, 84; Margaret Dean, 82.

Piano, open — Harry Smith, Courtenay, 77; Rosaline Bing, 72.

Elocution, open—Rosalie Bing, 87; Marguerite Cunliffe, 81.

Quartette, open — Chemainus Musical Society.

Bass, open — Ernest Felton, Ladysmith, and Bob Hamilton, Nanaimo, tied, 79.

Open Trio — Brankston Trio won Wittingham Cup, 80; Albern District Ladies' Choir, 78.

Open Tenor — Leslie Ross, 84.

Montreal March 16... traveled across the United States to the San Francisco exposition...

...saw my first sunshine here since I started the trip."

Accompanying Mr. Willis is his wife. They are staying at the Empress Hotel.

"Having just come from the San Francisco fair, that's the main thing on my mind at the present—with the exception of your beautiful weather," he continued.

"The one thing that struck me about the fair, though was its quietness. You're not being pestered all the time with high-pressure salesmen. The whole layout is perfect. The project is educational, musically and otherwise."

With reference to the piano business, Mr. Willis said that sales are running ahead of last year. There has been a much increased output by the factories in 1938 over 1937. The small-model pianos introduced were, perhaps, the reason for the increase, he said.

"I see that you will be holding your annual Musical Festival, starting April 18. Yours are many years old. In Montreal we hold an annual festival, but it is only in its third year now."

Symphony to Play Great Finnish Poem

The "Kalevala," the great poem of the Finns, is considered one of the greatest national epic poems of the world. The Finnish language is peculiarly melodious, the 54 beat of the rhythmic melodies being a reflection of the verse metre.

Sibelius is the chief musician of Finland, and in his works one sees reflected all the atmosphere of rune legend, all the strength, yet all the tenderness of Finnish folk music.

The work records the impressions of an exile's return to his native land. It opens with an agitated theme for the brass choir, which is answered by an organ-like response from the woodwinds, later reinforced by the strings. There is a change to allegro and the movement proper begins. The first subject is a broad, beautiful melody started by the strings against a persistent rhythmic accompaniment of the brasses.

This work is to be performed at the initial concert of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra to be held at the Royal Victoria Theatre, April 12.

To aid the Nazi four-year plan of self-sufficiency, Germans were asked to chew their food longer, with the idea that the more one

Surprises In Hockey Finals

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

YOU CAN TAKE IT for what it is worth, but the latest report on Dizzy Dean is that the trouble is not in his pitching arm, but in his back. The theory is that his arm is not sore at all. The trouble is located on the right side of his back, along the spine. At any rate, no one will know whether his trouble is in his back or his arm until his legs heal. Currently Dean has what baseball men call "shin splints," which is a soreness accompanied by sharp needle-like pains. Dizzy came down with the "splints" by dint of too much road work at the Chicago Cubs' baseball spring camp at Avalon, Catalina Island.

Dean can't bear down until he loses the splints and until he can bear down, no one will know how much zip is left in the old right flipper.

Manager Gabby Hartnett admits he doesn't know when Dean can start pitching. It may be tomorrow, or it may not be for another month. Dean is in the hands of the medics and until they give the word he's not to pitch.

He tried it once at Avalon and the Cub bosses clamped down on him quicker than Dean can pop off. For a while they had Charley Drake, Cub publicity man, standing guard to see that he didn't try to throw any more fast ones.

The tipoff on how the official Cub family has Dean figured may be the attitude of Hartnett. The Cub boss isn't figuring on Dean at all. There are plenty of the wise boys who think Dean is through. One of these is Charley Grimm, former Cub chief.

There are just as many who think Dean will be good for 15 games this season.

The Dizzy one is definitely on the spot and he knows it. No longer is he the wisecracking loudmouth of former years. His attitude has changed. He's serious and he has to be.

Dean is no numbskull. The Wrigley interests aren't going to fool around with him forever and if he doesn't make good this year he's through.

Dizzy's trouble started back in 1937 in the all-star game of that year. A booming blast from the big bat of Earl Averill bounced off Dizzy's big toe and laid the great one out flat.

Montreal Royals and Brandon Elks Pull Upsets In Canadian Playdowns

TORONTO (CP)—In a surprising form reversal, Montreal Royals swept past the tight defenses of Toronto Goodyears and beat the Ontario champions 3 to 1 last night to even their Allan Cup semifinal at a game each.

Beaten 6 to 2 at Montreal Sunday, and 2 to 1 underdogs in the pre-game betting, Royals fought back gallantly to check Goodyears to a standstill and score two goals after Toronto tied the score on a lucky second period counter.

The third game of the best-of-five series will be played in Montreal tomorrow night and the fourth here Saturday. Last night's loss was the first defeat for Goodyears in 32 league and playoff games.

When they finally fell, Goodyears went down before a club that put up a brilliant defensive barrier in front of their steady goalkeeper, Patsy Seguin.

KIMBERLEY CONFIDENT

CALGARY (CP)—The high-riding Port Arthur Bearcats and the Kimberley Dynamiters, now on the mend, left here last night for Saskatoon to resume their western Canada senior hockey finals in the Saskatchewan city tomorrow night.

Bearcats, who melted all Kimberley resistance Monday night to humble the Alberta-British Columbia champions 13 to 2 in the most one-sided final victory in years, resumed their traveling ways yesterday.

President Mickey Thomas of Kimberley said Carl Sorenson and Thomas Almack, still nursing sore shoulders, were improved. Gordon Wilson's ankle also is on the mend and Thomas expects he will play tomorrow. Scotty Ness, however, remains a doubtful starter.

BRANDON SURPRISES

WINNIPEG (CP)—Brandon Elks swept back from the brink of elimination last night to defeat Edmonton Roamers 5 to 0 and send the best-of-five western junior hockey final into a fourth game to be played here tomorrow.

Soundly whipped in the first two games of the series at Edmonton last week by identical scores of 6 to 0, Elks made a great comeback to down the powerful Edmonton club, farm team of New York's National Hockey League Rangers.

A capacity crowd of 5,000 saw Brandon retain its chance of gaining Manitoba a third straight Dominion championship. Winnipeg Monarchs won the national title in 1937 and St. Boniface Seals repeated last year.

It was Brandon's game almost from the start as they scored twice early in the first period while defencemen Dave Farmer of Roamers rested in the penalty box. Elks made it 3 to 0 in the second and broke from Edmonton power attacks for two more goals in the last half of the third.

BARTELL GOES INTO HOSPITAL

Chicago Cubs Lose Services of New Shortstop With Ailing Ankle

CHICAGO (AP)—Dick Bartell, the $24,000 a year shortstop acquired from the New York Giants and currently the Chicago Cubs' No. 1 "climber boy," was placed in a hospital for observation of his ailing left ankle yesterday—just two weeks before the Cubs begin defense of their National League championship.

Ordered here by manager Gabby Hartnett when a sore and stiff ankle failed to respond to treatment on the spring training trip, Bartell slipped into town yesterday. Quickly Cub officials whisked the once fiery but now bewildered star to a physician's office and then to Masonic hospital.

"There is a traumatic injury to the ankle," said Cub physician, Dr. John F. Davis, who just a year ago was prodding the $185,000 arm of Dizzy Dean to see what made it crack. "It has left a condition in which some fluid is in the joint. There is no rheumatism and the ankle is free from arthritis symptoms."

NEW YORK (AP)—Mike Jacobs, head of the 20th Century Sporting Club, announced yesterday the heavyweight battle between Max Baer and Lou Nova, California title contenders, will be held June 1 in the Yankee Stadium.

Fish Planting Scheme Enlarged

B.C. Game Commission Develops Broad Program

The British Columbia game department this year has undertaken the greatest program of fish propagation and restocking of rivers and lakes yet attempted, Attorney-General Wismer was advised yesterday by J. G. Cunningham, game commissioner.

Mr. Cunningham discussed with the Attorney-General the plans for this year's work.

It is the first year the province has had full control of the fish hatcheries, which were turned over by the federal government last year.

Within the last 10 days 500,000 yearling Kamloops and cut-throat trout have been planted on Vancouver Island and the lower mainland.

Mr. Cunningham outlined a broad program for the department. It includes the operation of a new hatchery at Nelson and hatcheries at Summerland, Cultus Lake, Smith Falls, Stanley Park, Qualicum and Veitch Creek near Sooke.

A former Dominion station at Gerard off the Larder River has been taken over and will be used as a collecting and eying station. Eggs from all over the province will be collected there.

Additional eying stations are at Beaver Lake near Kelowna and at Penask Lake and Lloyds Creek in the Kamloops area. A rearing pond will be taken over from the Kelowna Fish and Game Association.

Within the last year, Mr. Cunningham said, a total of 16,000 eggs and fry have been either planted or liberated.

A new project being developed this year is to destroy coarse fish that eat up the food needed by sport fish and ducks. In co-operation with game associations on the lower mainland and in the Okanagan coarse fish traps will be laid to reduce the numbers of suckers, squaw fish and carp.

Mr. Cunningham said in an experiment at Salmon Arm last year 6,000,000 carp fry from 2½ to 5 inches long were taken out in four days.

The commissioner said he was convinced this year's planting program would be the most successful in the history of the game board.

"It is the best stocking we have ever had," he said. "The fish are in excellent condition, with no sign of disease."

Lawn Bowling

Although the season will not open until a little later in the spring, officials of the Lake Hill Lawn Bowling Club have extended an invitation to members to play on Good Friday, provided weather is suitable. Play will start at 2.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Oak Bay Wanderers Rugby Club will be held this evening in St. Michael's School at 8. Members of both the senior and intermediate teams are asked to attend.

Meadows, former University of California star, holder of the world outdoor record of 14 feet 11 inches, is pictured regaining indoor supremacy with a lift of 14 feet 7 inches, just enough to top Warmerdam.

Royals Here Friday

Will Engage Victoria United in Intercity League Football Match

Soccer fans have a treat in store on Good Friday when Victoria United meet New Westminster Royals at the Athletic Park, starting 2:30 in an Intercity League engagement.

Following last evening's work-out of the local aggregation, two changes were made in the lineup.

With Roy Barnes still on the suspended list, Cliff Robbins will play at the left half position. Ralph Cosier, who has shown up well as an inside forward for the Intermediate League champs, Young Liberals, will work in the inside right position along with winger Gordie Bell.

COMPLETE LINEUPS

The complete lineup for Victoria follows: Goal, Wally Rowe; full-backs, George Leggett and Bobby Bell; half-backs, Jack Okell, Glen Robbins and Cliff Robbins; forwards, Gordie Bell, Ralph Cosier, Nip Sage, Noel Morgan and George Payne; substitutes, Al Condon, Herbie Thomson, Jimmy Worswick and Scotty Stewart.

Any player selected on either the lineup or substitute list who is unable to turn out is asked to phone the secretary immediately at G-5787. Members of the team are asked to be at the playing grounds by 2 P.M.

It will be remembered the Royals created a favorable impression on their last visit here when they went down to defeat at the hands of the United by a score of 3 to 2, after a rousing game. The Royals got off to a poor start this season, but since the beginning of the year they have shown vast improvement.

As an indication of how the team has come up in the last short while, it should be remembered that this team defeated Vancouver United 7 to 0 the Saturday before the Uniteds visited Victoria to account for the local squad by a score of 4 to 3. They are the only team, outside of Victoria, who have been able to defeat Radials this season.

Dave Swan will referee.

New York—Jackie Berg, 147½, England, outpointed Pete Galliano, 141½, Baltimore (8).

Edmonton, Winnipeg Win

Advance in Western Canada Basketball Playdowns; Winner Plays Here

CALGARY (CP)—Edmonton's first Alberta men's senior basketball champions in more than eight years, Edmonton Auroras, will meet Winnipeg St. Andrews, Manitoba-Saskatchewan titlists, in Edmonton Friday night in the first of a two-game total-point series for the right to meet Victoria Dominions in the western finals opening on the coast next Wednesday.

Auroras, in a flashing display, tonight defeated Lethbridge Aces in the provincial sudden death final 52 to 33 to take over the title held by Raymond Union Jacks for the last eight years.

In a clean hard-fought game Arnold Henderson's Edmontonians, sparked by Stew Birch and 12 Jack Lees with 11 and Ed Tomick with nine points, quickly came from behind an early four-point deficit to end the first half 19 to 15.

They took full advantage of their opponent's collapsed defence to outscore Aces almost two to one in the second half. Teams and scores follow:

H. Anderson Tops In Fivepin Play

Leads Commercial League Averages With Fine Mark of 229

H. Anderson was the individual star in the Olympic Alleys' Commercial Fivepin League competition this season. Not only did he top the field in the average standings, totalling an average 229 for 66 games, but also was high man in three games with 875, and posted the best score for a single game, 373.

W. Marshall placed second in the averages. He had a 220 for 50 games, while W. McCaig was third with a 215 for 66 games. W. Waters finished fourth and H. Carphin fifth.

The league's annual banquet will be held Saturday night at 8 in the Olympic Alleys. All members are asked to attend.

High School Gala

The Victoria High School inter-school swimming gala will be held tomorrow at 3.15 at the Crystal Garden. All events should prove well contested and interesting. The formation of a swimming club at the school this year has enabled students to learn to swim and to improve form under expert instruction. Students, friends and parents are invited to attend.

The gala will bring to a close the pre-Easter term as the students break up for the holidays tomorrow.

Conny Smythe And Ross Up To Old Tricks

Try Little Goat-getting As Boston and Toronto Prepare for World Series

TORONTO (CP)—Bustling about in preparation for the trip to Boston tonight, Manager Conny Smythe told today why he is making "sure everything is according to hockey Hoyle for the Stanley Cup finals with Boston Bruins. The old National League rivals open their world title round tomorrow.

"Sure, we're insisting that the Bruins have regulation sticks," Smythe said. "And why not? The rules are there, so let's live up to them."

"We've beaten the Bruins four times in Stanley Cup playoffs and every time there has been a wholesale squawk out of Boston after the series. At the N.H.L. semi-annual meeting last fall, I insisted that everything be right up to the mark for the playoffs, because I felt there was too much controversy over them every year. This time—if I have anything to do about it—there will be no loopholes for arguing afterwards. Nobody can say the better team didn't win."

That's why the Boston players spent part of a practice period yesterday making sure their sticks were down to the 53-inch limit. Smythe thought it would be "just as smart to have adjustable goals as illegal sticks."

The impression grew today that the seven-game series which opens tomorrow will go just about to the limit.

SAYS LEAFS FASTER

Leafs went through a brisk drill yesterday and Coach Dick Irvin expressed himself well pleased with all the players.

"We'll be faster than the Bruins, anyway," Irvin said.

Defenceman Bingo Kampman is still favoring a twisted ankle. Big "Dutch the Clutch" will start against the Bruins, however, and the rest of the squad that pushed aside Detroit is fit.

Harvey Jackson, recovering from a knee injury, will get more service in the finals.

"He's a big fellow and he should go well against the Bruins," the coach declared.

In Boston Manager Art Ross indicated Smythe's objection was inspired by Ross' insistence the series open on Thursday night instead of last night.

The Boston manager refused to allow the equipment argument to drop and countered with a demand that Smythe respect the regulations limiting the width of goalie's leg-pads and stick-blades to 10 and 3½ inches, respectively.

The Bruins appeared almost completely recovered from their grueling seven-game series with Toronto.

Rainiers Fall Before San Diego in Coast Baseball; Portland Drops First

Third baseman Ernie Raimondi's back won a Pacific Coast League baseball game for the San Francisco Seals yesterday.

Catcher Bill Conroy of Oakland was attempting a double play in the eighth. The bases were loaded with Seals and Raimondi grounded to third baseman Joe Abreu, whose throw home choked off big Harley Boss.

Then Conroy threw to first to make a double killing, but his aim was bad. It whacked Raimondi right between the shoulder blades, and Al Wright scored the only run of the game while Raimondi was rubbing the sore spot.

Meanwhile the Stars fell on Portland as the Hollywood club pulled up even with the Beavers at the top of the standings.

HOME RUN WINS

Babe Herman, the former Brooklyn Dodger slugger now playing first base for Hollywood, got only one hit in five trips to the platter but it was a home run in the eighth with two mates on deck and helped the Stars to a 9 to 5 victory over the previously-unbeaten Beavers.

At the bottom of the heap is Sacramento, which lost its fourth straight game last night when Los Angeles hammered a trio of Solon pitchers in the first night game of the season.

Catcher George Detore poled two doubles and a triple as the San Diego Padres snowed Seattle under a 7 to 0 score at the border city, nicking the veteran Hal Turpin and Les Webber for nine hits. Young Byron Humphreys held the Rainiers to four bingles.

BILL O'CONNOR NEW PRESIDENT

Elected Head of British Columbia Automotive Sports Association

Bill O'Connor was elected president of the British Columbia Automotive Sports Association at the annual meeting held last night in the British Public Schools' Club. Jack Smith was chosen vice-president and N. Butler, secretary-treasurer.

Al Baker will handle the starter's duties again this year and his assistant will be Bob Wensley. Rolly Hibbard will be pit boss. The safety committee is composed of W. Smith and E. Foster, the timers, R. Moody, F. Comdale, G. Butler, C. Hulke and Frank Gooch, recorder.

Jack Smith's car won the most points last year and will therefore be given No. 1 numeral for the forthcoming season. Other numbers awarded follow: J. Laird, No. 2; J. Frumetto, No. 3; S. Holdridge, No. 4; Digger Caldwell, No. 5; Corkey Thomas, No. 6; J. Vantreight, No. 7; F. Carson, No. 8; J. Wright, No. 9; J. MacDonald, No. 10.

The next meeting will be held April 18 in the same building.

Baseball Gossip

BATON ROUGE, La.—Johnny Wittig, the young hurler from Baltimore, must learn to be a little more deceitful if he is to stick with the New York Giants. Wittig has plenty of "stuff" and has no difficulty finding the centre of the plate, but he does it too often and shows by his actions what he's going to throw. More concealment and cutting of the corners are Manager Bill Terry's prescription.

El Paso, Texas.—Gerald (Gee) Walker, has manager Jimmy Dykes stumped. Despite his reputation as a spring hitter, Walker has been looking terrible both at the plate and in the field. Unless he shows improvement soon, Rip Radcliffe will replace him in the White Sox outfield. The Chicago club resumed their spring series today with the Cubs seeking their fifth straight victory.

Columbia, S.C.—Cincinnati fans, who have made a habit of giving the razzberry to shortstop Billy Myers, will have to revise their opinion of him if he keeps up the burning pace he has set during the training season. He smacked a homer, double and two singles against the Boston Red Sox yesterday.

Little Rock, Ark.—The Phillies today were due to get their first look at a $25,000 pitcher, Harry Matusak, who was hurled for the Philadelphia Athletics. Manager Doc Prothro yesterday announced the conditional purchase of Matusak from the Baltimore Internationals.

Lakeland, Fla.—Al Todd, Brooklyn's recently acquired catcher who has been burned up by the criticism he received in connection with the Pittsburgh Pirates' collapse last fall, wants Pie Traynor to know that he has been given Babe Phelps' clean-up position in the Dodger batting order. "Wait until Traynor hears about this," he shouted when he was told, and he hopes Pie didn't miss the news of yesterday's two homers.

Tie Hockey Series

PHILADELPHIA (CP)—Philadelphia Ramblers last night evened their best-of-five games series with Cleveland Barons for the International American Hockey League championship, defeating the Barons 5 to 4 with a goal in the third overtime period.

Cleveland defeated the Ramblers here Saturday night 2 to 1 in the first game of the series. The Ramblers scored three goals in the first period and Barons notched three goals in the second. Both teams scored once in the third period.

X-rays showed the toe to be badly broken and it was promptly put in splints. For several days Dean took things easy. But he returned to the mound too soon and instead of bearing down on the big toe, he had to pitch flat-footed. The unnatural motion injured his back and from that afternoon of July, 1937, he has been a major question mark.

He finished up the year with 13 victories and 10 defeats and the next spring was sold to Chicago for $185,000 of Wrigley's chewing gum fortune.

Last season he won seven and lost one with his famous "nothing" ball. There was nothing to show that he had regained the stride of his best years with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Certainly he has shown nothing this spring.

COMFORT KEYNOTES INTERIOR OF TRANS-ATLANTIC CLIPPER—Europeans who are seeing the 82,500-pound Yankee Clipper during its 5,476-mile trans-Atlantic inspection flight, are marvelling at a veritable "winged hotel." ONTARIO WOMAN SAYS:

"Mustard is my best friend, when I have indigestion pains"

Otherwise hale and hearty, this lady of over seventy frequently suffers from a digestive or stomach condition that causes a severe pain between her shoulders. Mrs. Lacelle was interviewed at her home, 144 Glenora Street, Ottawa, and told how she relies upon mustard to bring her relief from these attacks.

"Directly the pain starts," she says, "I make a poultice of mustard and rolled oats—equal parts of each—and mix with lukewarm water. My back is first rubbed with a little camphorated oil, then the poultice is applied. In less than ten minutes I am free from pain."

Winters are generally long and cold in the Ottawa district and Mr. Lacelle, like many others, suffers from uncomfortably cold feet. So in frosty weather he sprinkles a little dry mustard in his shoes. This develops a warmth that keeps his feet comfortable. Another way to use mustard to keep the feet cozy is to make two brown paper insoles for each shoe. Sprinkle a small quantity of mustard between the paper insoles and lay them smoothly over the leather insoles of the shoes. Use very little mustard at first and increase the quantity until you get the right amount to kindle a mild, glowing warmth all over the soles of your feet.

SPORTSMEN GREET 'BUNNY' AUSTIN

NEW YORK—Sheaves of welcoming telegrams poured in from American sportsmen to greet H. W. (Bunny) Austin, Britain's No. 1 tennis champion, as he stepped off the Aquitania in New York. This great British amateur sportsman looked fit and well in spite of the fact that he has addressed football crowds totaling 100,000 in the past fortnight as part of his Moral Re-Armament campaign.

"I am coming to America, and I hope Canada also, in the interests of Moral Re-Armament," said Austin. "I believe it is the task of sportsmen to help put the ideals of the playing field into the life of the nation." He believed that we must get into every area of our life some of the discipline, the self-giving, the teamwork which sport requires. "Sport unites the nation in recreation ground, gym and stadium. A new sporting spirit can unite the nation in office, workshop and home," he said.

The tennis star, though small in stature and slight in build, is one of the most formidable fighters on the tennis court. He feels that he can put that same pep and steel-willed determination into the fight for a morally re-armed world which will be crisis-proof and war-proof. "I determined at the time of the crisis last September to throw all my energies into this task," he said in an interview on his arrival today. "Moral re-armament is the one constructive answer to all crises—the one program on which leaders of every faction can agree. It has spread like wildfire in Britain."

Among the scores of telegrams from headlines in American sport, welcoming Austin and his program, were messages from Jessie Owens, Melvin Walker, David Albritton and from Julian S. Myrick, president of the International Club. Dick Harlow, Harvard football coach, wired "Hope your message of Moral Re-Armament may reach the hearts of millions of our boys just as have your ideas on sportsmanship."

25-Mile Speed Gives Best Mileage

ATHENS, Ga.—The best gasoline mileage for motor cars is in the range of moderate speeds, around 25 miles an hour.

This fact was reported at the southeastern meeting of the American Physical Society here today by Prof. J. B. Derieux of North Carolina State College at Raleigh, N.C.

In a speed range from five to 60 miles an hour, it was found, the maximum mileage was achieved at 25 miles an hour and an average of about 20 miles to the gallon was obtained. At five miles an hour, the mileage per gallon was about 14, while at 60 miles an hour, 12 miles to the gallon was recorded.

The gain in mileage per gallon rose rapidly from five to 20 miles an hour speeds and then usually fell away slowly. Prof. Derieux declared.

Tests were also reported using the three different grades of commercial gasoline, "high test," "regular" and "traffic." Little difference in gasoline mileage was noted. The exception was that at very low or very high speeds the high test gasoline gave more miles to the gallon of fuel.

These tests, points out Prof. Derieux, were made without adjusting the octane selector on the car; just as the average motorist would do in trying out different grades of fuel.

A hammock rope can support only about one-fourth the weight it could hold up if the pull were vertical.

First trans-Atlantic flight was attempted in 1910 by Walter Wellman and a crew in a non-rigid airship.

Mr. Macdonald was taken to the Jubilee Hospital and attended by Dr. Gordon Kenning.

The Easter Parade

Easter Shopping Brisk

Chilly Weather Has Held Back Purchase Of Latest Women's Fashions

Despite chilly winds and expected colder weather, the Easter shopping rush started in earnest today, with crowds in the business portion of the city early this morning.

The cool weather of recent days has somewhat restricted shopping, particularly in the stores catering to female fashions.

At the Gonzales Hill Observatory this morning weather observers said frost was expected tonight, with strong easterly winds and unsettled conditions tomorrow.

It was too far ahead, they said, to forecast weather for the weekend, but they gave an encouraging hint that it will probably change by Saturday to warmer days and more sunshine.

Stores of the city are gay with flowers and Easter eggs. The latest fashions brighten show windows.

HUGE EASTER EGG

In one store is an Easter egg that weighs between 40 and 50 pounds and costs $35. The proprietor of the store said he did not expect to sell it, but it put people in mind of buying smaller eggs. The big egg is of chocolate, brightly decorated with sugar roses and colored garlands.

Tomorrow afternoon the children will be out of school until Monday, April 17. Saturday morning they will be busy purchasing their candy eggs for friends and smaller brothers and sisters.

Tomorrow afternoon there will be a big exodus of Victorians to Seattle to spend the long weekend. Their places here will be taken by hundreds of Vancouver and Seattle visitors who are expected for the holidays.

Civil servants and employees of the City Hall will have the longest weekend. They will close their desks tomorrow afternoon at 5 and will not return to their offices until Tuesday morning. Many private offices will also be closed for the same period. Banks will be closed Friday and Monday. Stores will be closed Friday only, but employees worked today on their regular Wednesday half-holiday.

Easter Sunday is a week earlier this year than in 1938, when it came April 17. Last year, however, there was driving rain all day, but the weather previously had been warmer than it has been this year.

Want Teeth in Relief Ruling

City Urged to Seek Amendment to Residents And Responsibility Act

Methods by which teeth could be placed in the Residence and Responsibility Act, lone piece of legislation which determines the domicile feature of the relief issue in British Columbia, are suggested by the city relief committee, in a report filed today for the consideration of the City Council this afternoon.

As one definite means of assuring equity to municipalities forced to pay relief to cases for which another district is held responsible, the committee suggests some definite penal clause be placed in the act making the responsible municipality pay bills submitted to it by the one meeting such expenses.

That condition arises in cases in which unemployed move from one district to another. The municipality in which they are found destitute must provide immediate assistance. Such municipality is entitled to make a claim for the private of that money from the district responsible for the case. But there is no penalty in the act enforcing such payment.

Present regulations, the report states, give a municipality the right to provide relief to a newcomer for a period of six weeks on that basis. No legislation exists to force such a case back to his point of domicile, that being the municipality or district responsible for his relief. The report suggests that the act be amended to require the municipality to which he comes as a newcomer to provide transportation only for his return.

The whole situation could only be cleaned up by an amendment to the act making it impossible for a person to establish or change his residence at all while he is drawing relief, the report states, before suggesting the council advocate such an amendment.

Kinsmen Club Sponsors Band

Plans to Build Charlie Rowles' Unit Into a 50-Piece Band

The development of a smart boys' musical unit that will be second to none on the continent is the newest objective of the Victoria Kinsmen Club members. The club took over sponsorship of Rowles' Boys' Band as a first step toward its goal last night when parents of the members of the band gathered to hear their youngsters play for the last time under that name.

To be known as the Kinsmen Boys' Band, it will be built up to a 50-piece unit and besides being taught the fine points of music, the boys will also be given instruction in smart marching drill movements to add color to their performances. The club also plans to outfit the boys in colorful uniforms.

The present strength of the row calling for 30 more boys, between the ages of 8 to 15 years, who are interested in joining. They are asked to communicate with Ernest Harris, 338 Fort Street, who has been appointed managing director of the band. Charles H. Rowles, who for 10 years has been developing the band, will continue his position as musical director.

A. Smith has been named financial director of the band; E. Baker, secretary; J. McAllister, boys' director; Jack Phillips, publicity director; G. Fatt, membership director.

The band will hold its first practice next Tuesday.

A strong earthquake was registered on the seismograph of the Dominion Meteorological Observatory, Gonzales Heights, at 8.26 this morning. The epicentre was estimated to be 6,400 miles from Victoria in the direction either of New Guinea or of Asia Minor. The tremor continued for 20 minutes.

Tin Easter Hat Spotted

Victoria Crowds Amazed When New York Experiment Tried Here

By BETTE HUGHES

I walked the streets of Victoria yesterday morning with a stove-pipe flue-stopper for an Easter bonnet.

I paid 15 cents for the flue-stopper in the hardware store, added a green ribbon—5 cents—and stuck a bunch of flowers—15 cents—on top. Thirty-five cents my new spring hat cost me, and I left the store feeling proud of my bargain.

A woman reporter in New York doled up a strainer from the kitchen sink as a hat and paraded the streets of the great metropolis without prompting one single gasp of surprise. I was assigned to see what would happen in Victoria under similar circumstances.

So with my stove-pipe flue-stopper lid hat on, down Douglas Street to the Hudson's Bay I went. I looked at the latest styles in one hat shop window and some of them did not look any funnier than mine. I went in.

"May I help you, madam?" asked the salesgirl politely.

Her expression was well controlled, but she obviously thought I needed help. I assumed at first the other customers were looking envious—but with my later experiences, I decided it probably was not envy.

Up Douglas again I went, down and up Yates, Fort and Broad. Did people notice? Did they smile or turn to look?

Did anyone even know my hat was not the real McCoy?

They did! Victoria must be different to New York.

MEN'S SMILES FROZE

The smiles on some of the men's faces, who were feeling good because it was spring and the sun was shining, froze when they saw me!

One man who looked as though he had spent a nice harmless life and had never hurt the proverbial fly, glanced mildly at me, then, his eyes fastening on my shining headgear, a look of fear crossed his face. The last I saw of him, he was muttering to himself and casting "I'm-going-down-for-the-third-time" looks around.

As I started out, three high school youths passed.

"Look at her!" They nudged each other and I edged closer to hear.

"That's the screwiest hat I've even seen—looks like tin!" I heard one of them say.

They were right, of course—my hat was plain, unadorned tin—painted gold, and as it was a sunny day, it blazed like the top of a copper church steeple!

Women noticed more than men but they were more polite.

Most of them looked at me, glanced discreetly at my hat and turned away, sometimes incredulously, but more often just plain amusement on their faces. Smug some of them looked.

"John said my spring hat looks funny—wait until I tell him about this!" I could almost hear them thinking.

One tall, kind-looking man held a store door open for me, but his eyes lit on my hat and the door banged back against my nose. However I recovered myself quickly enough to smile at him and murmur "Thank you!" Not that he heard me, of course!

"SCREWY, I GUESS"

Three men in overalls, discussing Hitler on a street corner, stopped long enough to stare.

"What's that dame got on her head?" one remarked.

I paused to look in a window.

"Screwy, I guess!" They passed me off like that and returned with gusto to Hitler.

Such little attention hurt my pride, so I purposely caught the eye of a smartly-dressed lady in black and white. She stared curiously at my hat.

This will be interesting, I thought, she obviously reads Vogue.

"Mother," she said to the woman with her, "It's one of those surrealistic effects!"

Open-mouthed amazement spread from one end of Douglas Street to the other, and pretty soon I was passing along between two long lines of gaping pedestrians. A man in a car almost fell out of his window looking!

"Tsk! Tsk! Tsk!" An old man shook his head sadly.

"What kind of a hat is that?" Two obviously young men about town asked each other. I smiled at them, but rudely they kept on staring.

I passed a man in front of Terry's. He looked hypnotized. I passed him again. I walked around the block. Yes, he was still there. I let him alone after that.

I met a friend.

"Hello, Hugh!" I said gaily.

"Isn't it a lovely day?"

FIND HIGH CULTURE AT VAN, 600 B.C.

PROVIDENCE, R.I.—Hillside fortifications that kept mighty Assyria from taking the city of Van, Asia Minor, in ancient international struggle, have been unearthed by the expedition which is probing the buried history of the Vannic kingdom.

Traces of inner and outer walls and a turret have been found, reports Prof. Robert P. Casey of Brown University, who led the past season's expedition together with Prof. Kirsopp Lake and Mrs. Lake, representing the University Museum, University of Pennsylvania. In time of siege, people of Van probably huddled inside the walls of their high, rocky hill, Prof. Casey concludes.

The expedition found new evidence that this small, almost forgotten kingdom had developed a high culture, when it was wrecked by the conquering Medes about 600 B.C. Beautifully fashioned pottery and implements cut from volcanic stone are among the relics that have lain buried in the ruins. The Vanni made sharp blades from this volcanic stone, and continued to use it long after metal was introduced, the archaeologists discovered. New camera techniques enabled the expedition to make color photographs of the red, buff and grey ware for later study.

On the north side of this hill, digging has uncovered a terrace and ceremonial platform, where the court of the kingdom may have assembled. The platform had a drain and other characteristics suggesting religious sacrifices. Adjoining this area are remains of an ornamental wall of green and white stone, which probably collapsed about the sixth century B.C. Beneath the stones the expedition found a well-preserved skeleton in reclining, or sleeping, position.

A trench cut from top to bottom of the hill revealed architectural remains of various periods. The Vannic kingdom is found to be the first to build here, since its walls were built on shelves cut out of the virgin rock.

The Turkish government is co-operating in the excavations.

Get Fossil Lizard 35 Million Years Old

WASHINGTON—Fossil remains of a big armored lizard, that may have frightened primitive horses and camels in the west 35,000,000 years ago, have been studied at the U.S. National Museum here by Charles W. Gilmore, curator of paleontology of the Smithsonian Institution.

The creature, known as Glyptotrochus, was about three feet long, and was covered with evenly arranged overlapping scales like shingles or tiles on a roof.

Hello, Bette." He looked at me indulgently. "What have you got on your head, Bette?"

"What does it look like?" I tried to sound indignant.

"Funny!" he retorted.

Ordered a cup of coffee at a lunch counter. The waitress asked me three times for my order.

Everyone was staring and one whole line of business men having their morning cup of coffee burst into loud—very loud—laughter.

I decided to get chummy with the girl sitting next me.

"MOST EMBARRASSING"

"Most embarrassing," I said demurely, casting down my eyes.

She looked sympathetic. "I know," she said. "But don't you care—just so long as you like it—"

I looked properly grateful.

The man on my other side brought out an unopened package of cigarettes. "Would you like a cigarette?" They're good for the nerves," he added.

"No, thanks, I was just leaving." And left.

On Broad Street I joined the crowd reading the Times bulletins. In a minute I was the only one looking at the bulletins.

"What—" The crowd was murmuring.

"Why, it looks just like the lid of a stove-pipe!" came from somewhere behind me.

With visions of Victoria's police force, hot on my trail, I dashed into the building. In the elevator I began to breathe quietly again.

"Have you gone crazy?" the elevator man asked.

That settled it.

A girl reporter in New York may walk around Times Square and Battery Park with a sink sieve on her head and not even get noticed.

In Victoria it is different.

In Scotland, superstitious maidens of olden times believed that snails, placed on a slate, would crawl about and spell out the initials of future husbands.

New Zealand is the source of most of the grass seed sown in England.

Canadian Girl to Star as Singer

Prodigy, Aged 9, Signed Up By Sam Goldwyn

HOLLYWOOD, Cal. (AP)—Movie Producer Sam Goldwyn says he has discovered a nine-year-old Canadian girl singer whose voice compares favorably with that of Galli Curci in range, timbre and quality.

The tiny blonde Montreal miss was living with her mother, Mrs. Mihette Nash, in a Los Angeles auto camp where talent scouts found her and signed her for an important singing role in a picture starring Jascha Heifetz, renowned violinist.

ON LIFE"

ADVERTISEMENTS FOR PHYLOSAN tablets (like the one you are reading now) have shown many men and women the way to get the most out of life in their middle years. Every day we get letters from them—unsolicited expressions of surprise and gratitude at what Phyllosan has done for them. We print such a letter below:

"My husband and I have been taking Phyllosan tablets, and we both feel about twenty years younger. Everyone is surprised at my appearance now. And only six weeks ago I was looking so ill and tired!"

Question yourself: Do you feel as energetic and self-confident and cheerful as you used to? Or have you been going down-hill physically and mentally? Have you come to the age where so many lose out to fatigue, "nerves", discouragement?

Don't accept the "past-forty" physical and mental let-down as something that can't be helped. Your middle years can be the richest in contentment—

if you overcome deterioration and avoid premature old age. Help your system recondition itself—help rebuild all your vital forces. Start taking Phyllosan tablets today.

Phyllosan is not an ordinary "tonic". Its essential ingredient is a unique natural vitalizing agent, made available through a secret process developed by Dr. Buergi, Professor of Medicine at the University of Berne, Switzerland. Phyllosan is prescribed by many doctors, who recognize it as an energizer and reconditioner giving lasting benefits.

Just two tiny tablets, three times a day. Yet take them regularly—and we believe you will be surprised and gratified by a steady increase in vigour, physical and mental buoyancy, youthful stamina. Buy Phyllosan (pronounced Fil-O-San) tablets at your druggist's... 85¢ ($1.50 for double quantity).

Lumber, mining, fisheries, farming and fruit raising, with special mention of immense quantities of copper ($6,000,000 worth in 1937), gold, silver, lead, zinc, ($14,000,000 worth the same year), coal, gypsum, sulphur, are all of the utmost value to her and to the Dominion, and no mere dollar measurement is adequate to express it. She exports 68% of her products of the orchard to the middle West and no part of the Dominion is without some of her raw or unfinished materials. In 1937 alone, tourists brought in $32,000,000: over 150,000 visiting cars crossed her borders. With a rare and marvellous climate, with mountains that rise as high as 16,000 feet (overtopping Mt. Blanc), with 12,000 miles of coast line, with the noble city of Vancouver and the fair Victoria, with a people noted for their independence of thought, love of liberty, and great industry and sagacity, British Columbia invites the fullest appreciation and esteem. Eastern manufacturers are already locating plants within her borders and are bringing to her the ties of co-operation that will more and more closely knit together the whole Dominion. Ask us for Facts and Figures concerning the Automotive Industries and the work they are doing in Canada, and we will send them.

BUILDING CANADIAN MOTOR CARS
is a National Enterprise

The Automotive Industry in 1937 paid to our transportation companies over $5,000,000 for freight charges, shipped through our Eastern and Western ports over 278,000 tons of Motors, Trucks and Parts. Its employees are a part of the huge home market in the East that purchased over $40,000,000 of foodstuffs from out Western Provinces; it spends over $80,000,000 for its raw materials, its supplies, and its fabricated parts from all sections of the Dominion. This illustrates the interchange of goods and money between Provinces; the result of Provincial co-operation. The Automotive Industry is National in purpose and National in scope. When you buy a Canadian-built car, you help your own Province.

Caddy Has 'em Arguing

Calgary Columnist Points Finger of Doubt But Victoria Girl Springs to His Defence

The recently-reported appearance of Cadborosaurus in waters adjacent to Victoria indicating he has once more returned to his summer haunts is providing the subject for further debate on the existence of the sea monster in columns of out-of-town newspapers.

While this speculation goes on, however, those who say they have seen Caddy are adamant in their belief in his existence and claim there is no ground for doubt as expressed by some skeptical writers who continually "pooh-pooh" the idea.

In the following two articles the wide variance of views is shown. The first is a letter written to the Comox Argus by Miss Dorothy Kynnersley, Box 574, Victoria, and the second is from the column, "Today, Tomorrow and Yesterday," written by W. M. Davidson in the Calgary Albertan.

Miss Kynnersley's letter says: "Caddy has certainly been to the Comox district coast before! In 1923, I think, the Argus reported his being seen by some sailors, but rather incredulously. In 1925 (I think, possibly 1923) a Victoria girl and I were camping next to Mr. Every-Clayton's at Little Bay, and we were awakened one night at 3 a.m. by a loud rhythmic splashing, blowing, etc., and saw three large humps moving by, northward."

"Next day, we were told it must have been a school of killer-whales, which I didn't believe, because, if so, why did only the first one do the blowing? And have a head like a seal, sheep, camel, or horse according to its distance out of water? One head between three?"

NOCTURNAL VISITOR

"Since then I have seen Caddy six times, unmistakably, and thus identified him; the most interesting occasion being one night when I was staying in a house on the edge of the cliff in Oak Bay (July of 1932, full moon) and going through the window on to the verandah to enjoy the glorious scene, I noticed the cove below filled with silver, which I suddenly realized was five immense coils of Caddy, filling the cove, head and tip being just under me, the head looking up with exceedingly mild, kind, interested eyes. His head was as large as a horse's but rounder over the top. His neck was probably 10 inches in diameter, but thickened quickly, like a horse's, and in about six feet down became part of the body, 24 inches in diameter, increasing at the farthest point of the middle fold to 30 or 36 inches through, and tapering again to a point about as thick as an arm."

"As I looked at him—and I really liked him—he reached his head slowly up towards the verandah, friendly interest in his most intelligent eyes. If I had been dressed I shouldn't have hesitated to go down nearer. But when he began to heave the first 16 or 20 feet of immensity towards the cliff I decided it would be more proper to say good-night . . . and shut the windows!"

"He is too big for any city lot! Quite 60 feet long. I saw him again a month later disporting himself with huge enjoyment in deep water close by, gambolling, diving, frisking, snorting, and thought of that verse:

"There is that leviathan whom Thou has made to take his pasture therein— which we were taught was a whale, but which the Hebrew dictionary says is a sea-serpent, of which nothing is known."

"I do hope no insane killer-mortal will hurt these evidently-harmless creatures; they may be sea-scavengers saving humanity from unknown harm, for God saw everything He had made, and 'behold, it was very good.'"

"P.S.—His color by daylight is just like kelp (which also looks silver in moonlight), a greenish-brown, greyish, khaki."

NO COMMON SEA BEAST

Mr. Davidson writes: "Victoria people are talking again about Cadborosaurus, or 'Caddy' as they refer to him familiarly, which is a sea monster of sorts, but never seen by human being except in and about Victoria. He is no common sea beast and shows himself only occasionally to selected persons who tell graphic tales about their experience and then every one gets mildly excited and the conversation begins again. Several Victorians will swear on all the Bibles on the island that they have seen him and are so positive about it that you will have a fight on your hands if you express doubts. The descriptions are all vague and rather spooky. My wife and a Calgary lady came home one evening from a walk by the sea, somewhat excited and said that they had seen 'it' but their description was not convincing and they wouldn't argue about it. It was getting dark at the time they made their discovery and they didn't care to linger. Next day we all walked down to the exact spot but saw nothing and no person but a wayfarer—perhaps a beachcomber, wrestling with some driftwood.

MOON AFFECTS THEM

"I notice that the people who have these experiences are always mystics and I have never known of any hard-boiled zoologist coming up with him. I asked one of the golf foursomes if he had ever seen Caddy, but I knew before he answered that he was just the kind of person who would have such experiences, because he shapes all his activities and adventures by the changes of the moon. He had seen the beast about 15 years ago and had never forgotten about it. He was as near as that green, a 100 yards away and what was noticeable about the animal was the enormous head, something like a bad-tempered bull about to charge and about twice as large. There was no signaling between them or any communication of any kind and, I take it, that both my friend and Caddy backed away and were quite satisfied. Neither liked the look of the other. This golf friend is a gentle, kindly soul, not excessively religious, but God-fearing, as far as I know. He seldom goes wrong in counting his golf score and never takes a kick at his ball when it is in the rough and no person looking."

"The second member of the foursome said whenever he felt like an attack of Cadborosaurus he went on the wagon for a couple of days and then he was all right again. I asked the third member of the party but he had just sliced his drive into the woods and what he said about it and about me, wasn't the sort of thing that the Albertan editor would like to see in print."

"Here is all the information I have, both pro and con. Scores of sober, good-living Victorians, some of them church members, say they have seen him, but they give few details. On the other hand Caddy never shows himself any place else, which Victorians will tell you is no proof that he does not exist but rather that he is selective, and has intelligence. No person even snap-shot him, although some artists made a sketch of him, which, believe me, was spooky enough but not convincing. No man of science ever got within eyesight of him. So there you are. You may make your own decision."

"The last report is that Caddy exhibited himself last week near the Oak Bay golf course, which is at the southeast point of the city, past which all the boats from Vancouver come. The story is that he showed his terrible head and let out a wild bellow which would have shocked all the bulls of Bashan at their very best. Victorian Tories sought to spoil the whole story by retorting that the scene was within a mashie shot of the house of Premier Duff

RUTHENIAN PEASANTS PAY PRICE OF RESISTANCE—Visual proof of what Adolf Hitler's sudden map-changes cost is supplied by this newly-arrived photo of Ruthenian peasants shot and left on the ground near Chust, capital of Ruthenia, after they had resisted invasion by Hungarian troops. Hungary's seizure of Ruthenia followed closely on the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia and the absorption of Bohemia and Moravia into Germany.

'PATS' FOUNDER COMING HERE

Lieut.-Col. A. H. Gault Will Join in P.P.C.L.I. Commemoration

Lieut.-Col. A. Hamilton Gault, D.S.O., founder of the P.P.C.L.I. regiment, a former commanding officer and present honorary lieutenant-colonel, will lead the Victoria detachment of the regiment, with ex-members of the overseas unit, at the church parade and memorial service in Victoria commemorating the "Pats" part at Frezenberg on May 8, 1915. The church parade will be held May 14 at Christ Church Cathedral.

Lieut.-Col. Gault possesses an exceptional war record and will come to Victoria and Winnipeg specially for anniversary services of the regiment this year. He is a member of Parliament for Taunton, Somerset, where he went to reside after the war.

With Lieut.-Col. F. D. Farquhar he was responsible for the organization of the regiment on August 12, 1914. He personally provided the means for equipping the unit when war broke out, and went overseas as second-in-command.

All former members of the unit desirous of renewing their acquaintance with Lieut.-Col. Gault will be invited to participate in the May 14 parade and service, for which arrangements are being made by Major J. N. Edgar, M.C., officer commanding "B" Company, P.P.C.L.I. Major Edgar served with Col. Gault during the Great War.

Domestic airlines, during December, 1938, carried 89,921 passengers as compared to 103,507 passengers carried during November, 1938.

British Railmen Press Wage Claims

LONDON (CP)—Representatives of the National Union of Railwaymen yesterday refused to accept the findings of the railway staff national tribunal, which last month turned down claims for wage increases for 600,000 British railwaymen. The increases asked would have cost £7,000,000 ($32,800,000).

Later the N.U.R. decided its executive should ask the railway companies to establish a basic weekly wage of 50 shillings. A resolution calling for strike action within 28 days was defeated. The association of engineers and firemen also rejected the findings of the tribunal.

Quebec Unions Sued But Cannot Sue

MONTREAL (CP)—Trade unions in the province of Quebec can be sued but cannot sue, under amendments to the Collective Labor Agreements Act, made in 1938, according to a decision rendered yesterday by Mr. Justice Fabre, Surveyor in Superior Court here.

Marking the first case to come before the courts under the new law, the hearing centred on suit by three unions for back pay, they claimed due workers "locked out" by the firms over a three-month period.

The International Ladies' Garment Workers, the Dress Makers, and the Dress Cutters' Unions were the plaintiffs against Charles Rothman, who carries on business as the Rose Dress Company.

Mr. Justice Surveyor said should judgment be rendered against such plaintiffs it could not be executed because they were not a registered legal body and had not the legal capacity to take actions.

Why this New HIGH-VITAMIN Food Gives More Complete Results than Vitamins Alone

A rich combination of 4 vitamins, the new High-Vitamin Yeast also offers you the remarkable "booster action" of fresh yeast itself

Read these questions and answers that tell about this new EFFECTIVE WAY to get the extra vitamins so many people need

Great numbers of people in America today are not getting enough vitamins to keep them feeling splendidly well, many studies indicate.

How can I tell whether I need more vitamins?

If you have severe colds that "hang on"—you likely need more Vitamin A. The new Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast gives 3100 units of A in each cake.

If you feel nervous, irritable and have poor digestion—more of the important "nerve" Vitamin B is often needed. You get 150 units of "nerve" vitamin in each cake of High-Vitamin Yeast.

Plenty of Vitamin D is needed at all times for the body's proper use of the calcium and phosphorus in your food—an essential for strong bones and hard teeth. A cake of High-Vitamin Yeast now supplies 400 units of Vitamin D.

Tiring easily, too early aging may show you need more "vitality" Vitamin G. The new High-Vitamin Yeast is rich in this vitamin. You get 50 to 60 units in every cake.

Do some people eat extra vitamins and not feel improvement?

Yes. Slow digestion may prevent them from assimilating the vitamins properly.

How can poor vitamin assimilation be helped?

Slow digestion can often be quickened and stimulated by eating Fleischmann's new High-Vitamin Yeast. In this way the yeast acts like a "booster" for the vitamins—helps the body to use them more quickly and completely.

Do I need an equal amount of each vitamin?

No. The number of units needed varies greatly.

Do I need these vitamins every day?

Yes. To keep yourself well supplied it is safest to take all these vitamins daily.

How much of my vitamin requirement can I get by eating the new High-Vitamin Yeast?

Two cakes a day of Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast will give you (in addition to your meals) more than the recognized minimum requirements of Vitamins A, B and D—and a very rich amount of Vitamin G.

Just eat 2 cakes of Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast regularly every day—plain or dissolved in a little water or milk. Eat one cake ½ hour before breakfast or lunch and one cake ½ hour before supper.

Fleischmann's Yeast can give you Vitamin Benefits 2 ways . . .

This new High-Vitamin Yeast is now richer than ever in 4 essential vitamins, A, B, D and G.

And the fresh yeast helps stimulate slow digestion, increase the flow of digestive juices in the stomach.

This better digestion helps you take up the vitamins you eat more fully. It "boosts" their assimilation.

Don't fail to get the full good of the vitamins you eat.

Start now to eat your extra vitamins in this effective way—in Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast.

2 cakes a day of this new High-Vitamin Yeast supply:

Vitamin A—6200 Units (Int.)
Vitamin B—300 Units (Int.)
Vitamin D—800 Units (Int.)
Vitamin G—150 Units (Sh. Bour.)

All the average person needs (in addition to his meals) of A, B and D, and a rich supply of the vitality vitamin G. Order from your grocer today.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SCIENCE CONTRADICTIONS

To the Editor:—Mr. G. Jennings Burnett claims that the science of the day contradicts that of yesterday. This statement will surely cause any rational human being to have grave doubts of the correctness of any statement that follows; because it is widely recognized as an indisputable fact, that the science of today is the evolution of the science of yesterday. A very striking example of this is readily understood by the Ein- stein's theory of relativity, from the Newtonian laws.

The use of words mainly handed down by those who are claimed to have written the scriptures, or its translators, have been the means of muddling the minds of millions of good people, who by their expressions and views, prove conclusively that they would never make good citizens of a material plane.

Mr. Burnett claims that today the theories of Darwin are in the discard. Possibly he never heard of the famous Scopes Trial at Dayton, Tennessee, in which evolution was positively proven correct and the greatest defender of the Bible of that day made a fool of in the eyes of all sensible reasoning human beings. It will be remembered that Mr. William Jennings Bryan returned to Washington a defeated and broken-down human, so much so that his death occurred three days following the end of the trial.

That trial is now generally referred to as "The Monkey Trial."

It is a regrettable fact that in the days of Darwin, 700 stu- dents of Natural and Physical Science were foolish enough to sign a declaration against the Darwinian theory of evolution. Very possibly a much larger number could be secured today to sign such a declaration. But if they did, and the document placed in the Bodleian Library for future generations to see, it would merely be the means of proving to future generations the absolute dumbness of the people of the 19th and 20th centuries.

J. McDERMOTT,

NOT A PASSING PROBLEM

To the Editor:—We should have realized long ago that the unemployment problem, was not a mere passing condition in a temporary trade depression, but a problem too serious to try and solve it, without a coming to- gether of the whole nation in con- clave prepared to sink differ- ences, and make great sacrifices, in the desperate eagerness of the people, as in a state of war against an enemy.

These schemes of building of roads and aggregating of new homes in large cities, resembles so much the artificial activities before the fall of Rome, and certainly the mortgaging of national credit with the piling of debt cannot go on for many more years.

The time has now come for the people to take more direct interest and active planning, to go to the root of the whole matter, and find the cause and remedy out- side of artificial palliation, which threatens to make the last state of unemployment, more menac- ing than the first.

At any sacrifice, development of the country must go on, that is the danger point, and a way must be found to bring together, idle land and resources with idle men and consumers, thereby creating new wealth from na- ture's heritage, which will cir- culate to the general welfare of all the people.

Let us forward to the land with new ideas and new uses with its development, (of growing wheat there is no need) there- fore, factory farming, industrial production and the building of new centres of population, with all the latest scientific improve- ments, not forgetting bomb and gasproof shelters from air at- tacks, and co-operative labor pool credit systems can help us to finance, with only limited need for money.

DOES THE CHURCH LEAD?

To the Editor:—Referring to your timely article re above, the answer is "Yes, of course, the church leads—but at the wrong end of the procession." That is why so many people stay home and listen to the radio—they may hear Franklin Roosevelt's pleas- ing voice speaking for the people and advocating quarantine of the crazy, fiendish aggressor leaders of otherwise decent nations.

When the Empire Theatre was recently filled to hear speakers advocating an embargo on munitions being sent to Japan by Christian Canada, i.e., against the bombing of defenceless women and children in China's cities, with the exception of the chair- man, Rev. Bryce Wallace, no holy men were there. What were they doing? Probably balancing tea

Of course, when His Most Gracious Majesty the King comes here they will turn out in force to hear his brilliant and inspiring oration and will join the school children in loud applause. But how will this help the millions suffering and dying of disease and hunger in Spain, Czecho- slovakia, Austria, Ethiopia and China?

Supposing this delity of the holy men's imagination should wake up? A time of judgment, con- cerning man's inhumanity to man may be witnessed and that pos- sibly in the very near future.

IMMIGRANTS

To the Editor:—In a recent issue there was an entertaining little letter from a correspond- ent, Malcolm Cameron, which the Times had titled "Heppburn vs. Bracken." This Easterner has no desire to get into that verbal line of fire, beyond desir- ing to express approval of the Bracken brand of leadership— which, in my opinion, is vastly more constructive than the col- ourful, but also more sectional Heppburn note.

However that may be, Mal- colm's Cameron's reference to the "short-sighted closing-down of immigration" is thought-pro- voking. I am one who believes that permitting 500,000 "immigrants" (1911), and 14,000 in the last fiscal year, are equally "short-sighted" policies—and the latter is about as wise as the former! I imagine that a steady infiltration of sound and well- chosen immigrants would be so- cially and economically con- structive, to the tune of 100,000 annually.

I was reminded of this matter by the following assertion, along the farm policy "front," made by Dr. A. R. Uppgren, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, in deal- ing with the farm income in re- lation to monetary policy, at the Bracken Markets Conference in Winnipeg: "We might point to the United States, which loaned abroad a year during the 1920's about $1,000,000,000. That placed funds in the hands of people abroad, with which to buy our products and raw materials, and the products of agriculture. In 1930, as sharply as a chicken's head is cut off with an axe, that foreign lending was cut off. This gave a shock to the maintenance of foreign trade from which we have not yet fully recovered."

It is this reader's opinion, sir, that the Canadian wheat farmer was a beneficiary of that "flow- ing stream of export dollars," and that he has been a peculiarly vulnerable victim of its evapora- tion, since 1930.

COSTLY SUPERFLUITY

To the Editor:—In view of the fact that most radios produced in the last few years have such power and selectivity as to pre- clude the necessity of any Cana- dian hook-up or rebroadcasts, the radio commission is just about as useful or valuable as would be the fifth leg on a giraffe. The majority of people with whom I have spoken, pre- fer the American programs any time in preference to the Cana- dian ones so why should we have a radio commission in Canada and a license fee, when there is none in the States.

We pay for all the radio broad- casting that is done when we buy the articles that the sponsors of these programs produce, as this cost is certainly added as an ad- vertising cost to the price which the consumer pays. The formation of the CBC came at a time when the general public had enough impositions upon them, without creating useless, high- paid positions such as the radio commission. Much is being said about the dangers of the various "isms" that confront us today, but can we wonder at their dur- ing growth when such things as the CBC exist? I am heartily in accord with the sentiments expressed by "Johnny" in the Voice and of the firm opinion that if a vote were taken con- cerning the CBC and the license fee, it would be cast over- whelmingly in favor of the aboli- tion of both these irritants on the public mind.

INSANITY AND REMEDIES

To the Editor:—The fact that Ralph Waldo Emerson had an imbecile brother should be enough to knock the bottom out of the sterilization tub. Walt Whitman, considered one of the greatest of the American poets, had another brother an imbecile and another a lunatic. He was very eccentric himself. The Roman Catholic Cardinal Newman and his brother, Professor F. New- man, translator of Homer, etc. had a third brother who was in- capable of looking after his own affairs. Mark Twain, who had an iron constitution, and a peculiarly level head, had an epileptic daughter, who was ul- timately drowned in her bath. Sir Walter Scott had a wayward and eccentric brother whose various doings caused great trouble and anxiety to Sir Walter. Charles Lamb had a gifted sister, who was afflicted with occasional attacks of violent insanity, and who killed her own mother in one of those attacks.

Insanity sometimes assumes an epidemic character, it is a curious fact that under the reigns of the two first Georges, many of the distinguished men of England were mentally unstable and vagar- ious. An exception was Sir Isaac Newton. The following were half crazy, some of them more than half. Swift, Pope, Steele, Congreve, Dryden, Defoe, Atterbury, Bolingbroke, Warburton, Sterne, Fielding, Horace Walpole. What is insanity anyway? And who is to be the judge in the matter? The present writer is opposed to the shock treatment of lunatics by the injection of insulin or of any other substances.

PLAZA THEATRE

Alexander D'Arcy and Billie Burke indulge in a bit of comic romancing in Hal Roach's new comedy, "Topper Takes a Trip," which is at the Plaza Theatre.

DOMINION THEATRE

"Convicted" on circumstantial evidence, despite his own sister's confession of murder! That is the situation faced by Charles Quigley and Rita Hayworth, prin- cipals of the new Columbia mys- tery drama at the Dominion Theatre. The film, one of the most exciting in recent months, details the efforts of the girl and of a police detective to prove her brother's innocence.

The climax of "Convicted" is possessed of heart-stopping qual- ities, so brilliantly has the film been written, played and directed. In addition to the principals, the cast includes Marc Lawrence, George McKay, Bob Rideout and Edgar Edwards.

OAK BAY THEATRE

A group of 12 Stradivarius viol- ins were insured for $250,000 at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, where they were played in a special section of the 90-piece orchestra record- ing for "The Great Waltz," now at the Oak Bay Theatre. The in- struments were borrowed from Erich Lachmann, who owns one of the largest collections of valu- able violins in the world. In ad- dition Toscha Seidel, the soloist, played his famous Da Vinci Stradivarius, an instrument valued at $60,000.

Mickey Rooney in 'Huckleberry Finn'

Sequel to 'Tom Sawyer' Catches Mark Twain's Humor at Capitol

Adventure, comedy and pathos, written as only Mark Twain could write, mark Mickey Rooney's first solo starring vehicle in "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," sequel to "Tom Sawyer," now playing at the Capitol Theatre.

The picture has caught the full flavor of Twain's whimsical humor and deep understanding of humankind. The adventures of the river boy who aids a run- away slave in an attempt to reach a free state; their travels up the river on a raft; their ad- ventures with the rascally "King" and "Duke," a pair of crooks, are all faithfully portrayed under the direction of Richard Thorpe.

'Girls' School' Atlas Feature

A certain amount of confusion on the Columbia lot was solved by director John Brahm, during production of the romantic com- edy "Girls' School," by the rather impolite method of calling some of Hollywood's prettiest young actresses by their last names alone. The Misses Deane, Lord, Reynolds and Math all possess the given name Marjorie.

Brahm decided, after a day filled with misunderstandings, to forego the familiar custom of calling players by their first names. In working on "Girls' School," the film now at the Atlas Theatre, Brahm found it necessary to address even the featured players by their sur- names. The phonetic similarity of Anne and Nan—Anne Shirley and Nan Grey—led to that de- cision.

Minstrel Show Musical Riot

The minstrel musical comedy "Black Ko-Ko Nuts," to be pre- sented at the Royal Victoria Theatre April 24 and 25 by the Royal Arcanum Minstrels, is a riot of music and laughter. A well-sustained plot retains inter- est from first to last.

The lodge scene in the first act, showing the meeting of the Mystic Knights of the Ark, presided over by High Ruler Noah, played by Douglas Rintoff, is a typical Carl Stocker concoction. Bob Crombie and Sid Hole are in the roles of Noah's supporting of- ficers.

'Kalevala' Will Be Performed

The "Kalevala," the great poem of the Finns, will be performed at the initial concert of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra, to be held at the Royal Victoria Theatre on April 12. The work records the impressions of an exile's re- turn to his native land. It opens with an agitated theme for the brass choir, which is answered by an organ-like response from the woodwinds, later reinforced by the strings. There is a change to allegro and the movement proper begins.

Shawn's Dancers Are Phenomenal

The success of Ted Shawn's ex- periment in dancing for men has been phenomenal. The London Times said: "Mr. Shawn and his team of eight dancers make a new and distinctive contribution to dancing. The dancers' technical accomplishment belongs genu- inely to dancing and is not a sub- limation of athletics, though it is wholly male in its aims and character."

John Martin, critic of the New York Times, calls the company "as expert an ensemble as has been seen in many a day." He says: "It is as a group that they function most effectively. They have a remarkable unity of style, and are so familiar with each other's personal rhythms that they play together with the pre- cision of a fine machine. More noteworthy, however, is the fact that for all their discipline and impeccable routine they are able to animate their performance with a vigor and spirit that lift it well above the status of mere drill."

Ted Shawn and his company will be seen at the Royal Victoria Theatre, April 17. Tickets are on sale at Terry's.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

The screen, which lately has focused a majority of its bigger productions on biographical sub- jects, has seen many remarkable portraits of characters taken from the past.

Few of these historic person- alities, however, enjoyed a life more significant and romantic than the Marco Polo whom Sam-

Adequate Cargo Service Given

Pacific Coast-Europe Outlook Reviewed By Harry S. Scott

Regularity of schedules with additional facilities due to anticipated increases in cargo movements are promised Pacific coast shippers by Harry S. Scott, president of the General Steamship Corporation Limited, represented in British Columbia by the Empire Shipping Company, who has just returned from Europe.

Reviewing the status of the many lines for which the General Steamship Corporation acts as Pacific coast agents, Mr. Scott mentioned particularly the Pacific-Australia Direct Line of the Trans-Atlantic Steamship Company Limited of Gothenburg. This year the Pacific coast will see two new vessels in the service, Ms. Kookaburra, due in May, Ms. Goomawarra, in August.

The West-Larsen Line of Bergen has three motorships being rushed to completion for the South American service. These modern vessels of 9,000 tons deadweight, with a speed of 13½ to 14 knots, will replace three steamers now in operation.

Recent introduction of a new service to the islands of the South Seas, the Pacific Islands Transport Line, has created interest in the area served.

Thor Dahl of Sandefjord, Norway, have provided two vessels, Ms. Thor I and Ms. Velox, which recently cleared B.C. for Noumea, New Caledonia.

The Italian Line serving Mediterranean ports, has adhered to schedule, and will continue to do so. No doubt, the cessation of hostilities in Spain will mean additional ports of call en route, especially at Barcelona.

The French Line made a noteworthy addition to its sailings during the season just closed. Three fully refrigerated vessels were added to the regular fortnightly schedule, the motorships Barfleur in November, Fort Royal in December, and Richemont in January.

Father Aboard Junk

ELLENSBURG (AP)—Twelve-year-old Jerry Petrich, Ellensburg junior high school student, said today his father, George Petrich, is radio operator on Richard Halliburton's missing Chinese junk.

The vessel, carrying Halliburton and crew of 10, left Hongkong for San Francisco six weeks ago.

Around the Docks

NIAGARA IN PORT TOMORROW NIGHT

Speeding up to arrive here before the Good Friday holiday, Ss. Niagara of the Canadian-Australasian Line, is attempting to make William Head by 7 tomorrow evening, inbound from Sydney, Auckland, Suva and Honolulu.

Capt. William Martin expects to bring his ship alongside Pier 2, Rithet Docks, at 8.

The Niagara has a large list of passengers this trip, there being 35 in all classes, 60 of whom will disembark here. While 100 tons of general cargo from the south is being put ashore here the liner will take aboard a consignment of paper for the return voyage to Australasia.

Seattle Excursion

A big holiday crowd is expected to take the opportunity of visiting Seattle on Good Friday when the C.P.R. will run the steamer Princess Charlotte on a daylight cruise to the Puget Sound port.

Bookings for the excursion are brisk. It was stated today at the passenger offices of the company. The Princess Charlotte has an excursion capacity of 1,000 passengers.

The boat will leave the Belleville Street docks at 8:30 Friday morning and will sail from Seattle on the return trip at 6 in the evening.

Rossington Completing

After stowing 600,000 feet of lumber here the British freighter Rossington Court is scheduled to complete work at 4 this afternoon and will leave the Canadian National docks shortly afterwards for the United Kingdom.

She is taking out a capacity cargo of B.C. lumber and prairie grain. The Greek freighter Maria Stathatos finished loading lumber at Ogden Point and cleared at 7:30 last night for Port Alberni.

Took Northern Route

Inbound to load lumber at Englewood, the British freighter Vera Radcliffe chose the northern Vancouver Island route and steamed southbound through Johnstone Strait for Comox, where she was due about noon today.

When she has completed bunkering the vessel will return to Englewood and will shift from there to Port Alberni.

Tyndareus Tuesday

Bob Cumberbatch, shipping manager for Rithet Consolidated Ltd. has been advised that the Blue Funnel Line Ss. Tyndareus, due to arrive from the Orient next Tuesday, has 200 tons of cargo for discharge at this port.

Fantome Away Again

It was only a fleeting visit that the Guinness' yacht Fantome paid to Esquimalt harbor yesterday afternoon.

The yacht arrived from Seattle about 2 and at 3:30 she cleared with her owner and party of guests for Vancouver. Capt. Wm. Mounce is the B.C. pilot aboard the Fantome.

Heavy Travel Year Predicted

Will Be 100 Per Cent Over 1938, Says P. A. Clewes of C.N.R.

MONTREAL — "It is quite safe to predict that travel from the British Isles to Canada during 1939 will increase by fully 100 per cent over that of last year," said P. A. Clewes of London, England, European manager for Canadian National Railways, who is now in Montreal on business. On the subject of travel Mr. Clewes continued, "It is indeed probable that the tourist traffic this year will reach record proportions. While some of this travel will enable visitors to see Quebec, Montreal, Toronto and a glimpse of Niagara Falls before returning to the seaboard, quite an impressive number of British travelers will extend their visit to include a journey to the Pacific coast."

Mr. Clewes attributed the anticipated increase to various causes, such as the cumulative effect of Canadian publicity, advertising, which is steadily growing in volume, a reluctance to visit certain parts of Europe, as well as a desire to visit at least one of the great fairs.

TCA Pilot Joins Imperial Airways

WINNIPEG—Capt. Bruce Middleton, one of the original pilots of Trans-Canada Airlines, has resigned his position with T.C.A. and will leave the Canadian service at the end of the month to proceed to England where he has accepted a position with Imperial Airways.

Capt. Middleton was born in Fort Frances, Ont., May 5, 1910, and was educated at the Dauphin public schools. He took up flying in 1930, joining the Royal Air Force in England and later the Imperial Airways. Captain Middleton piloted the first eastbound passenger plane from Vancouver to Winnipeg when the service was inaugurated April 1.

Pilots' Outlook

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Moderate selling prompted by hesitation at Chicago and late weakness at Liverpool erased early gains made by wheat futures prices at Winnipeg today. Final quotations were ¼ to ½ cent lower, May at 59½, July 61½ and October 61½ to 61¾.

Export-sales of Canadian wheat were estimated at around 400,000 bushels worked from both sea-boards and included a full cargo out of Vancouver.

Liverpool finished unchanged to ¼d higher. Chicago showed small losses while Buenos Aires at noon was unchanged to ¼ cent up.

Yesterday's country marketings totaled 151,000 bushels against 186,000 for the same day a year ago.

Operations in the coarse grains pit uncovered some export support in barley and oats. Cash wheat transactions were negligible.

EGG-EATING TITLE AIM OF TAKA SINGH

Local Strong Man Ready For Match With Man Claiming Championship

"That's small stuff. My man Taka Singh can beat that record without even exerting himself," declared George "Rebel" Mowat, who claims unofficial manager.

ship of Victoria's well-known East Indian strong man.

The statement was made after he was shown a picture and news item of an Atlanta, Georgia, resident, Ernest Conley, hailed as the unofficial world champion egg-eater.

This gentleman laid claim to the egg-eating throne recently when he consumed 40 raw eggs before his appetite was appeased.
"If anyone deserves that title
it's Taka," Mr. Mowat said.
"Forty eggs would just about be equal to a preliminary workout for him. I'm confident that he can pour at least four dozen potential cacklers down the hatch and if at all pressed he could go still further," Mr. Mowat said.

"We'd be willing to challenge the Atlanta man to a match for the championship, and if I know Taka he'll be the champion."

"Sure, sure, I take him on any time," said the Indian strong man himself in broken English when contacted late today. Taka, who quite frequently makes eggs his main diet, appeared to be quite sure he could outeat the crown claimant, and said to the Times reporter: "You fix egg-eating match soon as you can. I show you I be the champion." A number of years back, during one of "Rebel" Mowat's highly-entertaining baseball programs at Beacon Hill Park, Taka Singh, who specializes in weightlifting feats, ate three dozen eggs one after another—and they were Grade A large, too, which is something the article about Conley did not specify—and I wouldn't be at all surprised if Taka had his regular supper before he started," Mr. Mowat said.

Import Control In New Zealand

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP-Reuters)—Viscount Galway, Governor-General of New Zealand, Tuesday told the Bureau of Importers he did not intend to act on its petition that the import control regulations be suspended pending a court test of their constitutionality.

Lord Galway said Prime Minister Michael Savage had told him the attorney-general's department was of the opinion the regulations, announced late in 1938, were intra vires.
The regulations are designed to conserve exchange to ensure that funds will be available to meet commitments overseas at the end of this year, according to Finance Minister Walter Nash, who said that in 1938 there was over-importation. The restrictions also are promoting home industry.

Temperance Awards Are Announced By W.C.T.U.

Results of the temperance work among Sunday schools on the island were announced at the April meeting of Rockland Park
W.C.T.U. as follows:

A Dominion prize to Gordon Ralston of Centennial; a Dominion honor to Shirley Piper of Duncan; provincial awards to Kenneth Scott of Garden City, given by Rockland Park; Gordon Ralston, given by Frances Willard W.C.T.U., and Shirley Piper of Duncan; also book prizes to Bruce Ralston of Centennial, by Central Union; Helen Phillips of Wilkinson Road, by Rockland Park; Frances Willard union also remembered with books two girls of Centennial, Beula Hopkins and Gertrude Lane. A number of special papers from Duncan were also mentioned.

The effort to encourage good reading among children was explained and any move in that direction endorsed by those present.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Pettigrew, Pandora Avenue, with the president, Mrs. John Hall in the chair.

Mrs. Twamley conducted the worship period. One new member was reported and Mrs. Cornish and Mrs. Robson welcomed as visitors, also Mrs. Eilers, Sr., a member who has been on a visit to Seattle for some months. The passing of Mrs. Coone was noted with regret. Mrs. F. W. Laing, provincial vice-president, spoke of the Good Friday service to be held in First United Church. Mrs.

Laing also spoke of the meeting arranged for Thursday, April 13, in the Y.W.C.A. rooms, under the auspices of Central Union, when Mrs. James Gray, provincial president, will speak. A report of the embargo and boycott meetings was received.

Miss Lorraine Cornish entertained with two enjoyable readings, and warm thanks were expressed to her and to the hostess, who was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Zinkon and Mrs. Kay.

Old Pinch-Penny Celebrates a Wedding

1. You could have knocked me over with a broom straw when Pinch-Penny Baker and his wife blew into the swank Ritz-Copley to celebrate their 50th anniversary. Why, the old miser is so tightfisted he hoards his old shoe laces.

2. But that's only the beginning. He ordered the best dinner on the menu without batting an eye. Was even chummy with the cute blond waitress, too... until she made the mistake of serving him coffee.

3. Right then, old man Baker blew up like a volcano with acute indignation. "Take that coffee away!" he sputtered.
"Just because I love coffee, do you have to tempt me into losing a night's sleep?"

4. He didn't frighten her. "This is Sanka Coffee," she said. "It's 97% caffeine-free. Can't keep you awake. I think you'll find it's the best coffee you ever tasted." So what do you know! He drank it! And here's the pay-off!

5. Next morning the old miser was so tickled that he bought the waitress—what do you think—a bowl of goldfish! Said Sanka was the world's most delicious coffee
... and he hadn't slept better since he was a boy.

NEW LOW PRICE!

SANKA COFFEE is real coffee...

rich, friendly, and delectable!

And—97% of its caffeine is removed. So, even if you're one of those affected by caffeine, Sanka Coffee can't interfere with your
